Reason for Trip.

NOGALES, Ariz., May 7.—(AP)—Determined to "move in" on the kidnapers of June Robles wherever they may be found, authorities ended today the three-day hunt for the child out of the case nearly a week and made a spectacular but fruitless dash into Mexico on a supposedly "hot trail."

The occupant of a dwelling at Cananea, Sonora, was questioned after a search had been made of the place by Arizona highway patrolmen while hunting for the missing girl. The patrolmen then headed for Tucson, on a three-hour trip.

These highway patrolmen operated apart from the eager United States officers who surged across the international line at Nogales earlier in the day in an expeditionary movement. Returning early in the afternoon, leaders of the Nogales expedition said they had found nothing.

But the highway patrolmen remained south of the line, as did Officer White, chief criminal deputy of Santa Cruz county, who led the initial armed movement.

Stating flatly that June Robles still was alive and might be returned to her family within 24 hours, White headed southward from Nogales, to be followed later by several squads of gun-laden officers. But instead of returning with the possemen he continued on eastward to Cananea, where the patrolmen made their search.

In declaring the truth against the abductors at an end, authorities said they had assurances the family had under way no efforts to make contact with the kidnapers other than nightly journeys into the desert by Fernando Robles, little June's father, following instructions in a crudely printed note two hours after the girl vanished April 23. It demanded $15,000.

"We found nothing—the lead failed to pan out," said an official statement issued after the return of the expeditionary force.

LONDON DECLARES COMMERCIAL WAR AGAINST JAPANESE

Commons Applauds as Runciman Outlines
Plans To Protect Trade
Within Without Empire

LONDON, May 7.—(AP)—An open trade war with Japan was declared today as the British government announced an "intensification" of commerce within the empire.

The house of commons applauded as Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, outlined concisely his government's decision to take whatever action "the government believes necessary" to halt Japanese competition with British goods, particularly textiles, within the British empire.

He hinted that the "battle" might be waged in other parts of the world as well.

In the debate following Mr. Runciman's announcement, J. H. Thomas, secretary for dominions replied to attacks by Sir Herbert Samuel, liberal leader, by reiterating the government's empire free-trade policy and declaring that every effort will be made to intensify the exchange of products among dominions and colonies.

His U. S. Policies.

Mr. Thomas sharply attacked American economic defense policies. Sir Herbert had praised Secretary of State Hull and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace for their efforts "to break down world tariff barriers."

MEANS TO SETTLE DEBT'S PROBLEM BEING CONSIDERED

Rainey Hints Agreement With Finland May Provide Pattern; Roosevelt
Said Planning Message.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—Hints that a new plan of debt payments was being worked out for Finland which would be made the basis for a general revision of war debts were given today by Speaker Rainey.

No word of the plan came from the White House or the state department, however, and Rainey said he did not know the details.

Finland, the only country that has paid all debt installments in full, owes only $8,236,645. Great Britain, the largest debtor, owes over $4,500,000,000; France almost $4,000,000,000; and Italy $2,000,000,000.

In connection with the Rainey hint, it was pointed out in some quarters today that there might be some difficulties in adapting the same plan of treatment to all debtors, regardless of whether they had paid in full, made token payments, as have England and Italy, or defaulted, as has France.

The president intends to send a debt message to congress soon, but latest indications have been that it would be largely in the nature of a report of the status of the debts. There has been no definite indication that any request for legislative action would be made.

The state department has been working for several months on a new debt settlement with Finland. This plan has been virtually completed and very probably will be made a part of President Roosevelt's report to congress.

Even the nations that have made token payments, however, would be required to make huge payments to bring their debt installments to such a level as to enable them to pay.

Along with the talk of new debt settlements, however, it was recalled that congress in approving the Hoover debt moratorium plan, had definitely barred to any further extensions of time or to reductions in the debts.

In his dealings with foreign nations, President Roosevelt has been referred to this congressional mandate and reminded that it would be up to congress to pass upon more liberal terms.

Attorney-General Cummings has ruled that Great Britain and four other nations are not in default because of payments made in June and December, 1933.

ABOARD PRIVATE CAR BETH EVAN, EAST LIBERTY, PITTSBURGH, May 7.—(AP)—Samuel Insull's trip to Chicago was held up for almost four hours tonight awaiting a transfer of his special car to the Pennsylvania's crack Port-Deerborn Express.

The car bearing the former utilities king, his son, his guards and newspapermen was left in suburban East Liberty, five miles from downtown Pittsburgh, to avoid a crush of curious spectators.

Insull commented on the change by asking members of his party if they, like he, had had their dinner before.

CARLTON MOBLEY SUCCEEDS LINDER

Ex-Congressman Named
Secretary; Talmadge In Tribute to Former Aid.

The resignation of T. M. Linder as executive secretary to Governor Eugene Talmadge and the appointment of W. Carlton Mobley, Forsyth former congressman, to the post Monday shared political interest with the calling of a new meeting of the 50th district senatorial committee to reconsider the final list of winners to the thorne committee to conduct a primary in order that Hamilton McWhorter, senate president, might be re-elected.

Linder, resigned to make the race for commissioner of agriculture in the September 12 primary, having qualified as a candidate Saturday. He will remain in the governor's office until June 1, helping Mobley familiarize himself with the office routine.

In announcing the resignation and the Mobley appointment, Governor Talmadge paid high tribute to Linder, commending him for his work as secretary and also as assistant commissioner of agriculture.

In his statement, the governor revealed that he had advised Linder.

SOUTHERN GREEN RIGHT TO CONTINUE LOW COACH FARES

I. C. C. Authorizes Rate of One and One-Half Cents Per Mile Over
NRA Officials' Protests.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—Over the protests of some NRA officials, the interstate commerce commission today authorized the Southern railway to continue its charge of 1 1/2 cents a mile for coach passengers and 3 cents a mile for Pullman passengers.

Motor bus officials had complained they could not meet these comparatively low rates because of increased costs due to the NRA motor bus and truck code.

Sympathetic to this contention, Sol Rosenblatt, deputy NRA administrator in charge of the bus operation code, called a meeting about six weeks ago of bus operators and railroad officials in New Orleans.

The Southern withdrew from the conference after other railroads serving southern territory agreed to the suggestion of bus operators that fares be increased to a 2 cents a mile minimum.

The interstate commerce commission authorized the roads which had agreed with NRA officials on the 2-cent minimum to meet the Southern rates if they desired.

Western railroads which have been charging 2 cents a mile were authorized to continue this rate for six months after May 31.

The Southern, which has suffered severely from bus competition, reported an increase of 48 per cent in passenger traffic during April over the same month last year. Officials said this indicated that the company had gained materially by reducing rates.

Bus operators complain their expenses have been increased $15,000,000 a year by the code.

ALL COMPETING LINES

CHARGING SAME FARES

Railroads serving Georgia traffic are competing with the tariffs of the Southern railway in areas served by the Southern and in other areas are following the public service commission schedule on intrastate travel and their charges in interstate travel.

The Southern and roads which compete with it are charging 1 1/2 cents a mile in coaches on all travel, intrastate and interstate, and 2 cents a mile intrastate and 3 cents a mile interstate in coaches and Pullmans and the same coach fare and 3-cent Pullman fare on interstate tickets.

F. D. R. PREPARES TO PRESENT VIEW ON SILVER ISSUE

Chief Executive Discusses
Question With King
Preparatory To Announcement of Policy.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—President Roosevelt devoted two hours today to a discussion of the silver question preparatory to announcing what, if any, new legislation to improve the status of the metal would be approved by the administration.

With Secretary Morgenthau, he made a study of pending proposals and arranged the arguments he will present tomorrow when the chief executive meets with leaders of the senate silver bloc.

Although Mr. Roosevelt is not committed to any specific plan, the silver senators tonight apparently were confident that this session would see enactment of a program for the metal which would include mandatory action.

With Senator King, democrat, Utah, announcing that the White House party tentatively scheduled for today had been postponed until tomorrow, members of the silver group outlined a 3-point program, which they said they believed the administration would accept.

It included mandatory nationalization of the domestic store of silver, despite that the White House time and again has emphasized that the president opposed other than permissive legislation.

Roosevelt Silent.

The silverites said they had no definite commitment from Mr. Roosevelt, but that nevertheless they felt nationalization would be acceptable to the administration. Along with that would be a declaration of policy that the federal currency reserve should be 70 per cent gold and 25 to 30 per cent silver.

The third point, they said, would be the provision in the pending Dies bill which would place a premium on agricultural exports.

Silverites said that while the nationalization of silver sounded important, it really had no great significance.

They said the maximum estimate of silver available for nationalization was 250,000,000 ounces and that it was

VOTE IS 19 TO 17; MAYOR'S REACTION TO PLAN UNKNOWN

Key Says He Wants To
"Study the Ordinance and Think About It a Bit;" Public Hearing
Being Considered.

GROUP SIDESTEPS REDUCTION MOVE

Proposal Sent Back to Committee; Separate
Corporation To Operate
Steiner Is Voted.

Daylight saving time for Atlanta during the summer months was voted Monday afternoon by council, 19 for to 17 against, and the measure was sent to Mayor James L. Key for his signature.

Key's attitude in the matter was not known Monday. He said he wanted further time to study it. If he sanctions it, official Atlanta clocks will be moved up one hour at the time he approves it, and will remain moved up until September 1.

"I want to study the ordinance and think about it a bit," Key said. He said he had several requests for a hearing before taking action, but asserted he had not decided yet whether he would hold one.

Public hearing on the daylight saving time measure was held last Thursday by the ordinance committee of council, when both proponents and opponents to the plan were heard. It was following this public hearing that the committee voted, 3 to 2, against a favorable report to council.

Vote on the daylight saving issue was:

For—Tiller, Mitchell, Carpenter, Bailey, Milligan, Gilliam, Barrett, Cuba, White, Barnes, Rogers, May, Beck, Drennon, Haire, Lyle, Rantin, Rusk, Wilson, Total, 19.

Against—Coleman, Scott, Bowden, Albrecht, Murphy, Cobb, Loch, McCutcheon, Almond, Bridges, Childs, Knight, Hastings, Owen, Millam, Decker, Sutton, Total, 17.

Council also sidestepped definite action on a recommendation of the charter revision committee to reduce the 30-member body to one of 18, and sent it back to the committee for further consideration.

Steiner Corporation Voted.

Establishment of a separate corporation to operate the Albert Steiner cancer clinic in order to obtain a $250,000 PWA loan to increase the size of the institution, to allow patients to be treated there and to obtain a $100,000 additional virtual grant, was voted by the council.

Mayor Key vetoed the measure, virtually identical several weeks ago, and it failed to pass over his veto. There were 27 signatures on the new measure, however, more than the 25 required by the council to override a veto.

Under the agreement Steiner would be conveyed in fee simple to the corporation, which would be the Steiner measure and the new one is that the entire plant, its equipment and all appurtenances, will revert to the municipality at the expiration of a 30-year period.

Acts Despite Ruling.

Council voted the measure, in the face of an opinion by City Attorney James L. Mayson, that it could not convey city property in fee simple. Alderman J. Charlie Murphy, attorney, and other members of the bar in council, contended, however, that the city attorney was in error.

An effort by Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon, of the second, to

METHODISTS VOTE ECONOMY BUDGET

$5,000,000 Lopped From Church Slate for Coming Quadrennium.

JACKSON, Miss., May 7.—(AP)—Slashing its quadrennial budget for churchwide benevolences and connections by nearly $5,000,000, the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today assigned the church to a program of rigid economy in administration of general work featuring "expanded evangelism through voluntary support."

The budget for contributions by the annual conferences to general church work was placed at $250,000,000 a year, the coming or decrease as $1,240,000 a year less than was asked during the past quadrennium. The reduction was laid to "recent financial stress."

The largest items in the apportionment of the $2,000,000 were $900,000 for the board of missions and hospitals; $220,000 for administrative duties of the bishops and others; $332,000 for the board of Christian education (including temperance work) and $140,000 for theological schools.

Under the new budget commission's financing plan, the budget will be apportioned among the annual conferences, each conference and church members pronouncing the spiritual obligations, according to ability to contribute.

Message Planned.

Bishop W. A. Alexander, of Macon, Ga., informed the general conference on behalf of the college of bishops that the episcopacy by May 24, will issue an episcopal message to the membership pronouncing the spiritual obligations of the church for the quadrennium ahead.

The college of bishops, he declared, "will call upon the church to subordinate faith for fear and to surrender to the leadership."

Georgia Woman and Actor Are Awarded Pulitzer Prizes

NEW YORK, May 7.—(AP)—Disagreeing with its drama jury, the advisory board of the Columbia School of Journalism tonight announced through the university trustees the selection of "Men in White," by Sidney Kingsley, as the Pulitzer prize play for 1933.

The drama jury had voted unanimously for "Mary of Scotland," a historical play by Maxwell Anderson, but the advisory board, which submitted the final list of winners to the trustees, selected the drama of a physician's conflict between his profession and his private life.

A similar disagreement in opinion arose between two of the three history jurors and the advisory board. The two jurors had selected "Over Here," the fifth volume in Mark Sullivan's series "Our Times," while the third juror voted for no award. The advisory board selected "The People's Choice," by Herbert Agar.

The complete list of winners, as determined by the trustees on the recommendation of the advisory board, are:

Five persons were injured, three seriously, yesterday afternoon and night in traffic accidents in which two hit-and-run drivers figured.

Mrs. Ernest Truluck, of 1022 West View drive, was taken to Grady hospital in a serious condition Monday night after the car she was driving was struck at the intersection of Simpson and Chestnut streets by a machine driven by an unidentified white man.

Mrs. Truluck's car was knocked against a telephone pole and the impact threw her to the pavement. She was believed to have suffered a fractured skull.

Mrs. M. H. Smith, of 548 Chestnut street, mother of Mrs. Truluck, and Carlos Truluck, eight years of age, son, were slightly bruised and cut. Police arrested a man who gave the name of Harry Turnbow, 19, of 1032 Sells avenue, who denied he was the driver of the hit-and-run car.

Cuban Students Vote To Return to Classes

HAVANA, May 7.—(AP)—Five thousand Havana University students voted tonight to return to their classes, ending the strike which resulted from the killing of a student Saturday, and to banish communism from the university.

The students, representing the rightist element, were assured they would be protected after Colonel Fulgencio Batista, head of the army, had been advised of their action.

Colonel Batista was stated by his aide, Major Jaime Manuel, to have agreed that soldiers will not enter school buildings so long as the students themselves maintain order. Instructions were given to soldiers never to shoot when called out for student disturbances, but "to use famer methods."

memorial for equal rights will come up later in regular order.

The conference took a step toward unification of American Methodism by naming a commission on unification headed by five bishops, E. D. Mouson, W. N. Ainsworth, Paul B. Kern, John M. Moore and A. J. Moore, and containing a group of 20 ministers and laymen.

This commission will discuss union, federation or co-operation with communions from the Methodist Episcopal church and the Methodist Protestant church and seek co-operative territorial arrangements with negro Methodism.

Boundary Tilt Unsettled.

No action was taken on settlement of boundary disputes where annual conferences overlap state lines. The delegates refused to authorize a special commission to survey the boundary question on the claim that such a commission might foment discord in the annual conferences.

Mergers and consolidations of church schools is to be studied by a special commission with a view to strengthening the denomination's educational program.

Pastors may remain more than four years in a given charge under action taken today but presiding elders must move off their circuits after a four-year term and serve four years in another branch of the church before they return to a presiding eldership.

Ballooning was practically cleaned up today with the re-election of secretaries of four general church boards.

WHEN YOU'RE HEALTHY YOU'RE HAPPY!

The blame for "blue" days can be laid often to common constipation. It may bring loss of appetite and energy, sallow and pimply skin, even serious illness. Correct it by eating a delicious cereal.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this better than taking patent medicines—so often harmful?

Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily, relieve most types of constipation. With each meal, in chronic cases.

If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Get the red and green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

KEEP ON THE SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

The conference plans to adjourn tomorrow.

Gambling, speculative trading in stocks, lotteries and pari-mutuel betting were condemned today as "menaces" to business integrity and moral character by the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, after the conference had slashed the quadrennial budget nearly $5,000,000 in a rigid economy move and announced a church-wide revival of evangelism.

In addition to the church's legislative body revised the discipline to "consecrate" a bishop instead of "ordain" him. These words were swapped in the church law after the general conference had voted confidence in the life ordination of their bishops and had fought off all attempts to limit their terms of episcopacy.

Gambling as a "widespread sin" was legislated against in behalf of the church by adoption of a series of reports submitted by the general board of temperance and social service for which Bishop James Cannon Jr. maintains headquarters in Washington, District of Columbia.

The conference merged the work of this board with other church boards and today decided to close the Washington headquarters by August 1, 1934.

Appointments of commissions and boards ran throughout the day and into the night session.

The members of the new commission on budget were appointed late today by the college of bishops. This committee, which will survey the budget needs and prospects for the next four years, is composed of the following:

H. B. Trimble, Atlanta; Sam T. Senter, Atlanta; George S. Sexton, Shreveport; W. F. Bryan, Tyler, Texas; John W. Persons, Huntington, W. Va.; Costen J. Harrell, Nashville; Charlton Durant, Manning, S. C.; L. W. Wells, Richmond; J. L. Harmon, Bowling Green, Ky.; C. E. Hayes, Little Rock; E. R. Malone, Pensacola, Fla.; R. J. Smith, Springfield, Mo.; and R. A. Gray, Tallahassee, Fla.

Report of the episcopacy committee recommending that the present salaries of the active bishops remain unchanged was adopted. The bishops receive $6,000 salary a year, $1,300 expenses and $500 for travel.

The pension for retired bishops was trimmed from $3,000 a year to $2,700. Three bishops are retiring, W. A. Candler, Collins Denny and H. M. DuBoise, leaving 11 active members of the college of bishops, including Bishop Cannon, who was continued on the active list in spite of a conference effort to superannuate him.

Widows of bishops were allowed $1,080 a year and $500 annually for each dependent.

Entire U. S. Fleet To Return to West

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 7.—(AP)—The entire United States fleet will remain in the San Diego-San Pedro area from December this year until April 1, 1935, headquarters of the eleventh naval district were advised today in an official schedule.

While small detachments of the fleet now in the Atlantic will be returning at various times throughout the summer and fall for special duty assignments and for overhaul and "rotating reserve" schedules, the main body of the fleet will arrive in this area December 1 and 2.

What disposition of the naval forces will be made after April 1 is undetermined, no official schedules having been made.

Mooney Files Appeal For Freedom on Writ

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—(AP)—Tom Mooney, convicted of the 1916 Preparedness Day bombing here, filed a petition in federal district court today seeking his freedom on a writ of habeas corpus from San Quentin prison, where he is serving a life sentence.

The petition, marking the first attempt of Mooney to present his case to the United States district court, was assigned to Judge A. F. St. Sure.

Alleging that Mooney was convicted without the due process of law, the petition declares that Charles Fickert, then district attorney of San Francisco, obtained Mooney's conviction by the knowing use of perjured testimony.

He had used a number of the hotel's towels to make the car airtight. Upon the seat at his side was the letter addressed to Mrs. Dunwoody.

Few men of the hotel world enjoyed the wide popularity possessed by Mr. Dunwoody in his lifetime. He was 57 years of age, and was born at Macon.

He was named manager of the Winecoff hotel eight years ago, succeeding Arthur B. Moody. Later he became president of the Georgia Hotel Men's Association and was also state leader for the Greater hotel organization. He served, too, as chairman of the Atlanta Hotel Men's Association and at the time of his death was chairman of the hotel industry's NIRA compliance board in this city.

Besides these hotel activities, Mr. Dunwoody was a member of the Masonic lodge, the Civitan Club and the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Adele Dunwoody, and one brother, Daniel Dunwoody, of Macon.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed Monday, but burial probably will be at Macon.

A coroner's jury impeached at Hampton, shortly after noon Monday, returned a verdict to the effect that Mr. Dunwoody came to his death by his own hand, fumes from the automobile motor being given as the direct cause.

MEANS TO SETTLE DEBTS PROBLEM BEING CONSIDERED

age, is expected to go a long way toward codifying and clarifying the issue.

On June 15, 13 nations, which still owe the United States more than $12,000,000,000 borrowed during the World War, have payments due of approximately $175,000,000.

"REGULARIZING" SITUATION IS HOPED FOR BY PARIS

PARIS, May 7.—(AP)—A French intention of regularizing the Franco-American war debt situation after President Roosevelt has amplified the United States viewpoint was indicated today by high governmental officials.

In a private conversation they said no recent negotiations, "direct or indirect," had been undertaken in the matter, but that the "situation is more confused than ever."

They added, however, that a message is expected from the American executive and that Foreign Minister Louis Barthou expressed the latest French attitude in an address Saturday when he declared "it is the mission of our statesmen . . . to apply all the resources, devotion, intelligence, reason and heart to sweep away all obstacles and misunderstandings."

To all appearances, it was said, the viewpoint of the chamber of deputies remains unchanged from the one prevailing more than a year ago, when President Herriot, champion of debt payments, was overthrown as premier.

The chamber then believed the two governments should review the situation in the country that they did not surprise big local manufacturers' associations.

Announcement of the British Board of Trade that import quotas against Japanese goods will be reinforced in British territory forthwith did not surprise big local manufacturers' associations.

"Britain decided long ago to make this move," the Osaka Mainichi large news paper in the empire, said editorially. "She timed her effort to coincide with anti-Japanese feeling aroused by publicity attending our decorations with regard to eastern Asia."

The newspaper was pessimistic regarding additional efforts to reach an agreement with the English.

Leading exporters' organizations met and decided nothing remains but to resist the British decision. No uniform program is possible, it was agreed. "Japan must simply adopt tactics in each market which are best suited to local conditions."

A new British trade offensive, world wide, against Japan will then follow, Runciman plainly implied.

Sir Herbert, former holder of several cabinet posts, criticized the government's treatment of the dominions, saying that England was actually injuring empire trade by "economic nationalism."

JUSTICE SPEEDED FOR CRIME CASES

Highest Court Pledges
Legal Machinery Attuned
To Avoid Long Delays.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(UP)—Swift imprisonment of kidnappers, racketeers and extortionists captured under new federal laws was promised by the supreme court today.

Acting under authority granted last spring, Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes promulgated new rules of federal court procedure designed to get criminals to jail and keep them there and to answer criticism that crime flourishes because the courts grind slowly and not exceedingly well.

Coupled with the new laws near enactment which give the federal government greater power to fight organized crime, they are expected to make federal enforcement machinery more effective than local prosecution. The new laws make it a federal offense to transport stolen goods across state lines, send ransom demands through interstate commerce, move across state boundaries in kidnapings, extort through the mails and interstate commerce, rob banks belonging to the federal reserve system, or distribute firearms.

Immediate Sentence.
The new federal court rules require that when a criminal is convicted of one of these or any other federal offense, sentence must be imposed at once, with a bare allowance of time for the authorities to look up his record.

All motions for a new trial or arrest of judgment must be made in three days after conviction, and notice of appeal filed in five days after such motions are decided. Moves for a retrial on the grounds of new evidence, a valuable trick in the old days, must be made in 60 days after final judgment.

While this maneuvering is going on, the criminal must remain in jail unless the trial judge thinks he has raised a meritorious question in his appeal.

Circuit courts of appeal, generally slow moving, hereafter will operate under instructions to give the right of way to criminal cases. These courts may consider the appeal on a motion for dismissal on five days' notice after the appeal has been made. In ordinary routine they are required to hear the appeal as soon as after 30 days after filing as possible. When the circuit court has acted, appeal must be taken to the supreme court in 30 days.

The rules are expected to reduce to a few months—instead of years—the time when a convict will actually be serving his sentence.

Other Court Rulings.
Promulgation of these orders, effective in September, was the high spot of a session in which the court disposed of several questions.

It refused to halt the federal court injunction which set aside the wheat embargo orders of Governor William Langer, of North Dakota. These orders were issued to prevent movement of wheat outside the state until farmers received a "fair price."

The court announced it would hear the appeal of Senator Huey P. Long, democrat, Louisiana, in which he seeks to avoid meeting in the District of Columbia courts the libel suit of General Samuel T. Ansell, one-time counsel for the senate committee which investigated Louisiana elections. Long attacked Ansell on the floor of the senate and invited him to sue for libel. When the latter did so, Long raised his constitutional immunity.

The court refused to consider an attack on the New York statute barring the preaching of atheism in public. The text was brought by Charles Lee Smith, a leading exponent of atheism.

A suit seeking to bar collection of Oklahoma's one-eighth cent per barrel excise tax on oil produced on Osage Indian lands was rejected because the amount involved was less than $3,000.

Stock Sale Inquiry.
The Northwest Bancorporation of Minneapolis was refused the court's aid in its attempt to prevent state authorities from investigating its stock sales. The concern controlled 125 northwestern banks prior to 1929.

Bondholders of insolvent joint stock land banks were denied the right to force foreclosure on the properties which secured their bonds.

The court refused to rule on whether state banks in the hands of liquidators can be compelled to use money on deposit for paying off notes owed by the depositor.

Virginia was granted a review to test on the validity of its tax on intangible assets of a Virginia corporation engaged in interstate business.

The Delta and Pine Land Company, of Root, Miss., was refused a review of its recent decision holding that the company must try out under the laws of Tennessee the liability of the Hartford Accident and Insurance and the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company under a surety bond given by them.

HUNTER AND CLIFT UP FOR RE-ELECTION

H. Reid Hunter and Thomas W. Clift, assistant superintendents of schools, in charge of high schools, and business manager, respectively, are slated to be re-elected for new three-year terms as the major action of the board of education meeting beginning at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the city hall.

There has been a minority effort on the part of some board members to prevent Hunter's re-election, but the opposition was believed to have wilted Monday.

Hunter has been an assistant for about 15 years. Clift has been in his position for the past three years.

The only other matter of importance slated for consideration is adoption of the 1934-35 school calendar.

2 NEGROES ARRESTED AFTER 15-MINUTE FIGHT

After a physical encounter with a negro which lasted for 15 minutes, and after more than 200 negroes had gathered to watch the melee, Atlanta policemen Monday night arrested two negroes who gave the names of James Thomas, 15, of a Highland avenue address, and Harrison Handford, 44, of 70 Piedmont avenue, and locked them up on "suspicion."

According to reports, Detectives E. S. Fawcett and J. A. Preston went to a basement room at 79 Piedmont avenue to arrest Thomas on a charge of burglary. The negro resisted and after taking a pistol from him, the officers called for help and Patrolmen Eugene Head, F. A. Turner, S. C. Tuck and W. F. Jones went to the scene. There they found Handford attempting to injure more than 200 negroes against the other officers, they said, and arrested him.

In the fight Fawcett received a wound that necessitated four stitches and both Thomas and Handford were injured enough to require treatment at Grady hospital. One of the negroes kicked a glass door out of the officers' car, the report said.

Jean Harlow To Ask Divorce From Cinema Photographer

JEAN HARLOW AND HAL ROSSON.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 7.—(UP) Jean Harlow, blonde film actress, and her third husband, Harold G. Rosson, have separated. She has announced that she intends to seek a divorce on grounds of incompatibility.

Only a few hours after she had served as the matron of honor at a wedding yesterday, the screen star announced she had packed her belongings and left her Beverly Hills home. She said she would file suit for divorce against her cinematographer husband as soon as her film work would permit.

"This is not a matter of one being wrong or the other being right," said the actress. "It is simply a question of both of us being sensible people and realizing it is better for us to admit failure."

"There was no specific reason. Marriage can be likened to business and if a person doesn't make a go of it, it is the logical thing, I feel, to be big enough to admit failure rather than try to conceal it. With my marriage I realized it was better to separate."

"There is no ill feeling between us and I sincerely hope we can always remain friends," she proclaimed.

Rosson could not be reached for a statement.

Miss Harlow's announcement did come as a complete surprise in the film colony, for there had been rumors of a separation. The couple eloped to Yuma, Ariz., last September 18.

The actress' married life has been one of tragedy. She was married first at the age of 16 to Charles F. McGraw II, of Chicago; they separated after two years. Charging cruelty, she obtained a divorce in January, 1931.

In June, 1932, she was married to Paul Bern, film director, at the home of her parents here. Three months later he shot himself to death. A few days later Dorothy Millette, who claimed to be the common law wife of the director, leaped to her death from the deck of a Sacramento river steamer.

Last January 27 Herman A. Koch, Sacramento public administrator, filed suit here seeking half of the Bern estate under a will filed for probate October 21, 1932. He said Bern had continued to support Miss Millette until a few days of his death. She had no heirs, Koch said. He fixed the value of the estate at $24,037 exclusive of four insurance policies which totaled $37,000. The actress is opposing the action.

Rosson, a blonde widow while they were on location in the Arizona desert. He previously had been married to Miss Nina Byron and they were divorced in 1926.

Miss Harlow appeared first in comedy film roles in 1929 and advanced to stardom in "Hell's Angels."

Rosson had attended the marriage of Cary Wilson, screen writer, and Carmelita Geraghty, actress, at which Miss Harlow was matron of honor.

City's Support of 'Hospital Day' Urged by Key in Proclamation

Citing Atlanta's reputation for generosity and the record achieved during the past year in the charity wards of Atlanta hospitals, Mayor Key issued a proclamation Monday setting Friday as "Hospital Day" and urging support of all citizens in the work of relieving and preventing suffering.

The mayor's proclamation was in line with plans of more than 500 women, working under Mrs. Malcolm H. Dewey as general chairman, to make a public appeal Friday for the continuance of the work undertaken last year when the first "Hospital Day" was observed.

The drive will be carried on by nine women's organizations, including those representing seven hospitals, and the funds raised will be used at Grady, Steiner Clinic, Georgia Baptist, St. Joseph's, Eggleston Memorial, Scottish Rite and Wesley Memorial.

Signed as one of his first official acts Monday, the mayor's proclamation follows:

WHEREAS, the relief of human suffering is one of the principal aims of a well-ordered society, and the concern of our neighbors has been a chief attribute of Christian civilization since the example was set many years ago by the first Good Samaritan; and

WHEREAS, Atlanta has always borne the reputation for generosity and for sharing and for lending a helping hand to those unfortunate among the citizens who otherwise would suffer greatly; and

WHEREAS, Atlanta has established an enviable record for the number of charity patients receiving treatment in her hospitals, and has hospitals that have done their share in taking care of the city's unfortunate, and for lending a helping hand to those unfortunate among the citizens who otherwise would suffer greatly; and

WHEREAS, during the past year, funds raised to augment the charity work in these hospitals, namely, Grady, Steiner Clinic, Georgia Baptist, St. Joseph, Scottish Rite, Eggleston Memorial and Wesley Memorial, have done marvelous good in relieving and preventing suffering; and that a group of unselfish Atlanta women are ambitious to make an appeal for funds to further this work and to lend whatever weight and have worked diligently and with enthusiasm, with no other regard than that knowing they will have helped their fellow man.

THEREFORE, being thoroughly in sympathy with this great humanitarian enterprise and being anxious to encourage these unselfish workers and to lend whatever weight will be carried with the official sanction of my office, do officially declare Friday, May 11, as Atlanta Hospital Day, and strongly urge all citizens in whatever way they may be to lend their strongest support to this work, and to do all in their power to make this day a success.

This, the 7th day of May, 1934.
(Signed) JAMES L. KEY,
Mayor of Atlanta.

Mrs. Peeples Indicted For Murder of Child

An indictment charging murder was returned by Fulton county grand jury Monday, naming Mrs. Ethel Peeples, who poisoned her infant daughter, Lannie Faye Peeples, and is now at Grady hospital recovering from a dose of the poison which she took after administering the fatal potion to the child. Her condition was said by physicians to be good.

Aviatrix's Young Son To Take Aerial Course

Albert Seaman, 17-year-old son of Mrs. A. R. Seaman, of Wieuca road, herself a flyer, is to learn flying in his own plane, a new three-place biplane, it was learned Monday.

The boy's mother has been flying for a number of years and young Albert is taking up aviation with her complete approval.

"I think he will be safer flying than driving his own automobile," the mother said.

Spirituals To Feature Program Of Emory Glee Club Friday Night

Negro spirituals sung as no other organization in the country can sing them will be heard on the Emory University glee club program Friday night in the Glenn Memorial auditorium. Imitating the negro with an interpretation which seeks to bring out the musical qualities of the native folk songs, the Emory club has achieved an original arrangement of spirituals which has not been reproduced.

Following a nation-wide radio broadcast of the Emory glee club singing negro spirituals before President Roosevelt at the opening of Georgia Hall in Warm Springs last November, Dr. Malcolm H. Dewey, director, received a number of letters from all over the country asking information as to his arrangements and where they could be obtained. As the music was entirely peculiar to the Emory musicians, the arrangements could not be furnished.

Several members of the club attended services at a small negro church during one of their recent tours and were particularly impressed by one of the hymns sung by the congregation. They adapted the tune and now sing it on the glee club program as the number "Rollin'."

Three spirituals which will feature the folk-song section of the program are "Ezekiel Saw De Wheel," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" and "Joshua Fit De Battle of Jericho." All three numbers have been revised for this program from original arrangements by the club.

The concert Friday night is the annual featured Atlanta concert of the Emory glee club, and will bring to a close a season which has been highly successful. Glenn Memorial auditorium on the Emory Campus is expected to be filled to capacity for the program. Tickets may be secured by

Man, Dreaming of Fire, Leaps Through Window

A too realistic dream that he was in a burning building caused P. H. Hughes, 32, a truck driver, 683 E. 11th street, to leap through a window at his home Sunday night. The crash through the screen and a fall of five feet caused injuries which sent Hughes to Grady hospital for treatment.

Hughes told attendants he was dreaming when he leaped through the window into the yard. Chief injury was a lacerated leg.

CRACKSMEN GET $500 FROM PHARMACY SAFE

Burglars removed a 500-pound safe from a branch of the Jacobs Pharmacy at Pershing Point during Saturday night and escaped with approximately $500 in cash. A quantity of cigars and cigarettes also was taken.

The yegmen removed the safe from a mezzanine-floor in the store and dropped it into a small park outside the building.

Another gang of yegmen sawed down a small tree, dropped it across the roof of a chain grocery store at 2263 Peachtree road, then proceeded to blow the safe open. In this robbery $250 in cash and $40 in merchandise were taken.

TELEGRAPH INDUSTRY TO WORK UNDER CODE

Measure Will Be Imposed
Over Objections of Three Big Companies.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—The NRA today decided to impose a code upon the telegraph industry.

Hugh S. Johnson as chief made the announcement of a stringent code to be imposed over the objections of Western Union, American Telephone & Telegraph Company, and RCA Communications, Inc.

If the plan is carried through this will be the first code forced on an industry by NRA.

A public hearing will be held on the administration code May 16 before it is presented to President Roosevelt for imposition.

Decision to use the drastic procedure was reached, the Johnson announcement said, because the big companies of the industry persisted in refusing to join in a voluntary code of fair practices as late as the last public hearing, held May 2.

A. T. & T. it is to be covered only to the extent of its teletypewriter services, handling written messages, and this code will not touch oral telephone service.

RCA Communications comes in as a radio competitor of the cable companies.

Only Postal Telegraph and associated concerns, hard pressed by the competition of dominant Western Union and by the telephone company's invasion of the written message field, asked for a code to regulate competitive practices and put an end to long standing advantages held by others.

ECHOLS MURDER TRIAL TO BE REOPENED TODAY

Trial of Harold Fulcher, Baron Shaw and Charlie Lenby, charged with the murder of H. C. Echols, former Canadian jockey, is on the calendar for today before Judge Vir-lyn B. Moore. Fulcher's case probably will be separated and tried first, as was done three weeks ago, a trial having been declared when defense counsel reported they were unable to locate Mrs. Shaw, Baron Shaw and Ray Holland, wanted as witnesses for the defendant.

Echols was shot to death in his home in what police were informed was a botch job. Fulcher will be represented by William Schley Howard.

GERTRUDE STEIN TOPIC OF RICH TALK TODAY

"Gertrude Stein and Other Experimentalists" will be discussed by Mrs. Emma Garrett Morris in Rich's bookshop this morning at 10 o'clock. This is one of the regular weekly series, "Half Hours With Modern Writers."

"This is one of the most modern and most interesting of the talks I have given this season," said Mrs. Morris in reviewing the subject with Ruth Hinman Carter, of the bookshop. "I will stress especially the fourth dimension in recent novels and plays. 'Berkley Square' (John Bolderston); 'A Man Named Luke,' March Cost, and the relativity plays by Pirandello will be among the literary works mentioned. Picasso and Matisse, friends of Gertrude Stein, played a part in this particular phase."

"The Autobiography of Alice B. Toklas," Gertrude Stein's own life; her play, "Four Saints in Three Acts," and her latest book, "Making of Americans," will be the bases of the lecture. These talks are open to the public without charge.

INDUSTRIAL LOANS GIVEN APPROVAL

RFC Loan Program To Be Speeded To Aid Private Business Concerns.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—A $250,000,000 government credit stimulus for private industry through direct loans from the Reconstruction Corporation was started on the way through congress today with the approval of President Roosevelt.

The senate banking committee approved the plan of Chairman Jesse H. Jones, of the corporation, authorizing that agency to make five-year loans from the quarter of a billion dollar revolving fund to industries which are solvent but unable to comply with rigid bank credit requirements.

The proposal will supplement the Glass bill, now pending in the senate, to authorize federal reserve banks to make five-year industrial loans from their $250,000,000 of surplus funds, either directly or through member banks.

The Glass measure, laid aside temporarily by the senate today for the stock market control bill, received the informal endorsement of the banking committee along with the reconstruction proposal. The committee expects to favorably report both tomorrow as a combined measure, and perhaps incorporating in the bill already passed by the senate to authorize the corporation to subscribe to stock in the proposed export and import bank.

Jones appeared personally before the senate committee to urge his direct loan proposal and read a statement saying he was authorized to say President Roosevelt favored it and especially wanted the "smaller and medium-sized industries given a full chance to survive on equal terms with the larger industries."

Emerging from the closed meeting, Jones smilingly announced the committee had given its "blessing" to the power he had long sought.

He told newspapermen that repayments of loans to the corporation indicated an upturn in business conditions generally. He said loans were being paid back at the rate of $3,000,000 a day without any urging from the corporation.

Speaking to the committee regarding the bank loans, he said:

"In advocating that the RFC be authorized to make such loans, it is not with a view to duplicating any similar authority given to the federal reserve banks, but to supplement that authority and keep open as many avenues for such credit as possible."

"There is undoubtedly a need for credit for small and medium-sized industry and while some of the loans will carry more than the usual credit risk, unless the demand is met our relief problems will continue to multiply."

Senate Body To Study Previous Long Evidence

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—The senate elections committee will make a further study of the evidence previously taken in regard to Senator Overton's campaign before deciding whether to hold additional hearings in the Long-Overton ouster case.

A senate committee last year investigated Overton's campaign expenditures and the conduct of his election and Senator George, chairman of the committee, after an executive session, today said the committee had decided to review the previous investigation to determine whether the pending charges were covered by it and whether there are new charges that should be investigated.

The present petition, filed by persons in Louisiana, seeks the ouster of both Senators Long and Overton on the charge that Overton was fraudulently elected with Long's support.

George said the committee probably would not meet again until next week.

Louisiana Appointment Is Blocked by Long

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—The senate judiciary committee today reported adversely on the nomination of Rene A. Viosea to be United States attorney for the eastern district of Louisiana.

The committee's action was a victory for Senator Long, democrat, who had sought to prevent approval. The nomination had been pending for several weeks.

The committee's action followed a unanimous subcommittee report against the nomination, and was without a record vote.

In the subcommittee's hearings, Long had charged fraud in the issuance of bridge securities by an investment banking concern for which Viosea acted as attorney. It was testified that Viosea had received a substantial fee for his services.

The bridge was built across Lake Ponchartraine.

U. S. PAYING $15,000,000 FOR LEAF REDUCTION

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—Payment of $15,000,000 in rental and adjustment and benefit payments to burley tobacco growers was reported today by the farm administration.

The checks totaling $24,334,000 were sent to farmers in Smith county, Tenn., whose contracts were received in Washington May 2.

Benefit payments are made to producers at $20 per acre of reduction below the base period. Contracting producers agree to reduce both acreage and production from one-third to one-half.

To date a total of 4,276 burley tobacco contracts calling for the payment of $178,132 have been administratively approved. They are in the process of final audit.

EXTRA SESSION CALLED BY GOVERNOR LAFFOON

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 7.—(AP)—Governor Ruby Laffoon today called the Kentucky legislature to meet in special session beginning Wednesday noon for consideration of revenue and appropriation measures.

Among other subjects to be acted upon by the extraordinary session are correction of a bill enacted by the regular session relating to labeling of flour; re-enactment of bills whose enactment clauses were inadvertently left off by the regular session; amending a law to enable growers of crops to secure a mortgage on crops before planted, and repeal of the audit colony act of the regular session.

The audit colony act, which was intended to make such colonies unlawful, was enrolled erroneously with the result that it made them lawful.

Man Burned as He Prevents Suicide By Catching Woman in Mid-Air

NORFOLK, Va., May 7.—(AP)—Caught in mid-air after she had jumped over the side of the Norfolk-Washington steamer, District of Columbia last night, a young woman who gave her name as Mrs. P. F. Bykes, of Norfolk, was dragged back to safety by Mr. J. L. Waters, of Washington.

Mr. Waters sustained severe burns on his hand and a fractured rib in making the unusual rescue.

The woman, who was in a highly nervous state at the time of the incident, was placed under the care of a nurse aboard the vessel last night. When the District of Columbia docked this morning she had regained her composure, however, expressed regret at her act and came ashore unattended.

The steamer was passing Mount Vernon, historic home of Washington, at the time of the incident.

"I was sitting in a deck chair near the starboard rail, forward," Mr. Waters stated in describing the incident.

When I saw an attractive young woman suddenly walk up to the rail, climb up on the bench alongside the rail, throw both feet over and jump.

"As she went over the side I made a desperate attempt to grab her by the hair, failed and managed to catch hold of her left hand."

Mr. Waters at once called for help and J. C. Terry, saloon watchman, ran up and assisted in pulling the woman back over the rail.

Mr. Waters was smoking a cigar at the time. He had to act so quickly he forgot the cigar and it was in his right hand as he caught hold of the woman. The burning cigar was pressed lightly against his palm but despite the intense pain, he held on until assistance arrived. Waters' hand was burned to the bone. His rib was injured as he leaped over the side.

The woman, who gave a Willoughby address, had been employed, she stated, in the government printing office in Washington.

FIGHT IS EXPECTED ON STOCK CONTROL

Solons Disagree on Group To Administer Exchange Regulation Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—Whether the stock exchange should be regulated by the federal trade commission or a new and separate board arose today as an outstanding issue in the senate's discussion of the securities market control bill.

This same issue provided a major point of controversy in the house last week and the bill passed there retained the trade commission.

Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia, who proposed the senate board in committee was emphatic today in asserting that the fact that the New York Stock Exchange had asked for such a provision had nothing to do with its inclusion in the bill.

Two Groups Busy.

"Some of us felt," he said, "it was inconceivable that either the federal trade commission or the federal reserve board could do the work as effectively as a separate commission appointed for the purpose, in view of the fact that both the trade commission and the reserve board have complex duties now occupying all their time and ingenuity."

"It wasn't done because the stock exchange wanted a separate commission. The commission proposed by the stock exchange was as different from the one embodied in the bill as day is from night."

Costigan said that with the trade commission administering last year's securities act, a new group would entail duplication of effort and expense that would run to $500,000 a year.

Chairman Fletcher, democrat, Florida, of the banking committee, informed Costigan he would propose an amendment to transfer the securities act to the new commission.

Two-Hour Speech.

Fletcher began discussion of the bill

Living Tissues Grafted Successfully to Glands

BALTIMORE, May 7.—(AP)—The successful grafting of living tissue into a human body to take up the functions of impaired glands was described today by three Johns Hopkins research workers in a copyrighted article published in the American Journal of Surgery.

Two operations for the transplantation of healthy parathyroid tissue into ailing patients were cited. The success was noted in the rise of the amount of calcium in the blood to normal. The thyroid glands are two glands near the windpipe. The parathyroids, close to the thyroid, control the calcium supply.

Faced with the almost uniform failure of other experimenters, Dr. Harvey B. Stone, associate professor of surgery at the Johns Hopkins school of medicine, and his associates, Dr. James C. Owings, and George O. Gray, made their report after more than three years of research.

With a two-hour speech in which he asserted it would bring about a correction of abuses exposed by the committee's investigation of stock exchange practices. He again accused exchange officials of organized propaganda against the bill.

Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange, he said, had agreed to the principle of federal regulation and the bill would bring about reforms of a nature which Whitney had said should be accomplished.

However, Whitney's idea was that the exchanges themselves should do the reforming, where necessary. Fletcher disputed the ability of the exchanges to regulate themselves and asserted the investigation had shown that they could not or would not do so.

DR. CHARLES CURTIS LAID TO FINAL REST

South Carolina To Test Cotton Fabric in Roads

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 7.—(AP)—Experiments to test the feasibility of utilizing cotton fabric in strengthening bituminous surface road construction will be continued by the state highway department.

The test will be made possible through the donation of 3,200 yards of cotton fabric by the Cotton Textile Institute, Charles H. Moorefield, chief highway engineer, said.

A highway sector one-fourth mile long in Horry county has been selected for the experiments. The first use of cotton in the building of roads was in Newberry county in 1926. Moorefield said that this strip of road had held up well, but that as yet it has developed no conclusive evidence.

DISABLED FREIGHTER IN VICTORIA HARBOR

VICTORIA, B. C., May 7.—(AP)—Safe at last from the combined hazards of stormy seas and the clutching sands at the mouth of the Columbia river, the battered and wrecked Norwegian motorship Chidlar lay in Esquimalt harbor today.

Her master, Captain J. Mathiasen, and three of his men still were aboard the wrecked freighter.

Three men were washed overboard and a fourth killed aboard ship when it grounded at the mouth of the Columbia Thursday night.

Youth Held in Plot Against Carolinian

SUMTER, S. C., May 7.—(AP)—An attempt to extort $5,000 from J. F. Bland, wealthy Sumter county farmer, was revealed today with the arrest of Ozie Mathis, 19, who was charged with writing the extortion letter.

Officers revealed that Bland last week received a letter instructing him to put $5,000 in small bills in a package and leave it in Cane Savannah station Sunday. The letter was signed "Southern Gangsters" and threatened death if he failed to follow instructions.

The farmer notified officers and under their directions left a dummy package at the station while they watched from hiding.

An automobile occupied by a negro and a white man drove up and the negro got out and secured the package. As he started back to the car, the officers called on him to surrender and opened fire when he ran. The negro fled into the swamp and escaped, but apparently was wounded.

Officers said, however, that they recognized him as Mathis and the youth was arrested early today.

FLORIDA BEER LEVY
BRINGS IN $545,620

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 7.—(AP)—Floridians quaffed the contents of 53,486,386 bottles of beer during the first year.

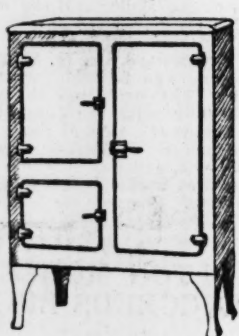

The figures were announced today by J. A. Cornier, director of the state beverage department.

The first year of the return of the beverage cost Floridians $6,074,795.25. In the state coffers poured $345,620.16 in license and excise tax, jingling silver from the flowing, liquid gold.

GRAND JURY HEARS MELLON TAX CASE

Decision May Be Withheld Until Close of Federal Session.

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—(AP)—After hearing five witnesses, a federal grand jury composed principally of men whose only incomes are their weekly pay-checks today began consideration of government charges that Andrew W. Mellon, mighty master of millions, has evaded income tax payments.

Immediately after the fifth witness concluded his testimony, the room was ordered cleared of all officials connected with the case and the procedure continued in the utmost secrecy.

This, however, was not taken to mean a decision may be reached soon, as Federal Judge R. M. Gibson earlier had instructed the jury it may withhold its final word until the end of the session.

At 4:30 p. m. (E. D. T.), the grand jury adjourned for the day without making any announcement. Sessions will be resumed tomorrow.

Three government accountants and tax experts and two officials of Mellon banks were the witnesses heard. They were Robert H. Maguire, vice president of the Mellon National Bank and Trust Co., and H. A. Phillips, of the Mellon National Bank.

Judge Gibson made no direct reference to the Mellon case in delivering his charge as the long-awaited investigation got under way this morning.

The government claims the 70-year-old former secretary of the treasury and ambassador to the Court of St. James failed to pay income taxes amounting to $1,319,080 for 1931 and also maintains an additional $659,540 is due in penalties.

HEADACHE

Three Minute
Relief From Your Headache

When you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, you can get soothing relief in three minutes with "B. C."—a reliable, pleasant-to-take remedy. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuritis; for reducing fever and quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit-forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold.—(adv.)

Kill the Cause
Of Skin Trouble

This formula for skin diseases is astounding the most skeptical in the marvelous way it heals severe cases of Ringworm, Athlete's Foot, Eczema, Tetter, Itch and other parasitic skin troubles. The minute it touches the sore spot, you feel a soothing, cooling sensation; in a few days you marvel at how your skin has healed. If you suffer with skin diseases of any kind, get from any druggist a 60c box of Tetterine, and get relief or get your money back.—(adv.)

Hidden Secrets Are Revealed In Your Telltale Handwriting

BY Ruth Fowler Brown

Every time you write a letter or sign your name you betray your most carefully guarded secrets of character and personality to the person who can "read between the lines." And so does everybody else. Whether they are good secrets or bad ones, we unconsciously tell the truth when we take our pen in hand.

Though your source which should like very much

authenticity of

Jim Henderson. Practical-constructive type. Reveals love of outdoors and ability to work with hands. Proud, independent and self-reliant. Blunt and outspoken. Needs to cultivate tact and diplomacy.

Gerald Smith. Practical-commercial type. Reveals fine sense of values and knowledge of materials, clear thinking, ability to make money. A bit stubborn and critical.

Jim adored Lulu and promised to work faithfully in his father's store if she would marry him. Lulu wanted a home, babies and a trustworthy, dependable husband who would be a good provider. She wondered if it might not be better to marry Gerald Smith, who was already manager of a variety store and who was a clever, level-headed businessman.

Lulu sent me the three handwritings shown here. I studied them and hunted out those hidden secrets. I told Lulu that I couldn't make up her mind for her, but that Jim, in spite of his seemingly shiftless ways, wasn't really at fault. He was a practical-constructive or builder type, and was making a mistake in trying to hold down a commercial job. What he needed was something that would keep him outside, in the wide open spaces, and give him responsibility. He would have a hard time reaching success in a store or office, for he hated being caged in by walls.

Gerald, on the other hand, was a commercial type, and would undoubtedly go far in business and would probably always be a good provider under the trace of selfishness I saw in his handwriting develop instead of overcome.

Personality Harmony.
"Lulu," I wrote, "I never tell anybody who to marry or who not to marry. I lay the facts before you and you must do your own choosing. Your handwriting tells me that you show more of the character traits possessed by Jim than by Gerald. The practical side of your nature admires and respects Gerald, but the emotional side is in better harmony with Jim. So, why marry either of them for a while? Show Jim my analysis of his handwriting, and write to me again in about six months."

I heard from Lulu the other day. Here was a happy, optimistic handwriting, full of joy and overflowing with pride for her new and industrious husband. Yes, she married Jim. His dad had given him a piece of old land that everybody thought was good for nothing, and Jim had started a poultry farm that shows much promise of being very successful.

And so it goes. Hundreds of letters come to me every day from rich people, from country folks and city-folk, from young and old, from distressed wives and erring husbands, from businessmen and office boys, from housewives and from women pursuing careers, from all races, colors and creeds.

Each of these handwritings is to me a real personality. I read between the lines, study the little signs that reveal character and personality secrets, and try to help a little when I can. Help with those personal problems that folks their strong points and weaknesses through handwriting analysis so that they can be happier and get the things they want.

If you would like an analysis of your own handwriting or that of a friend, or if you have a personal problem which can be solved through handwriting analysis, use the coupon on this page and write to Mrs. Ruth Fowler Brown. In addition to an individual check analysis of your personality through your handwriting, she will send you her intriguing little pamphlet, "The Greatest Sin," and also a copy of her valuable vocational chart, showing the character traits necessary to read the coupon carefully and follow the three simple rules exactly.

Flower Lovers of Atlanta Await
Opening of Annual Show on May 18

Preparations proceeded Monday to insure the success of Atlanta's first annual flower show, which will be held May 18 and 19 at 671 Peachtree street.

Exhibitors and lovers of flowers generally are keenly anticipating this demonstration, sponsored by the Peachtree Garden Club, Mrs. F. Phillips, chairman of the show. She is to be assisted by Mrs. Arthur Harris and Miss Nellie Hightower, co-chairmen, and Mrs. C. C. Case, secretary.

Collaborating with the Peachtree Garden Club in sponsoring the show will be the Cherokee Garden Club, Druid Hills Garden Club, Atlanta Woman's Club, Iris Garden Club, Lullwater Garden Club, Mimosa Garden Club, Neighborhood Garden Club, Perennial Garden Club, Piedmont Garden Club, Planters' Garden Club, Primrose Garden Club and Rose Garden Club.

The entire exhibit will be composed of five sections further divided into numerous classes. In Section 1, Class A, will be in charge of Mrs. DeWitt Norton, and Class B in charge of Mrs. Gilbert Beers. Section 2, inter-club competition, will have Mrs. Henry W. Grady Jr. as chairman. Class C, Mrs. Edward L. Pugh, Class E, and Mrs. S. Y. Tupper, Class F.

Flower arrangements will come in Section 3 and will be open to individual members of the collaborating clubs. In this section Mrs. J. G. Oglesby is chairman of Class G, Mrs. William H. Kiser, Class H; Mrs. Evelyn Harris, Class I, and Mrs. Carl Lewis, Class J.

Amateurs and professionals will compete in decorative classes, under supervision of Mrs. Norman M. Golegde, Class K; Mr. Howard Bucknell, Class L.

Section 5 will be devoted to specimen blooms, including roses, iris, peonies, and similar plants. Mrs. P. C. Harris and Mrs. C. E. Faust are general chairmen of this important section.

30-Hour Week Sought
By Labor, Says Goode

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 7.—(AP)—Union labor has set a 30-hour week as its goal and will join in a nationwide strike to attain it, George L. Goode, of Atlanta, southern representative of the American Federation of Labor, said in an address here today.

Goode spoke before the annual convention of the Tennessee Federation of Labor here.

"The new deal has accomplished much, but it has not helped materially to create jobs for organized labor," the A. F. of L. representative declared. "Out of 10,000,000 unemployed, only a little more than 2,000,000 have gone back to work."

A reduction to 30 hours a week is the only means of getting unemployed back to work," he said. "We have no desire to accomplish results by a strike—everyone who has participated in one knows its seriousness. We will exhaust every other method first, but we must get results."

Dominance Under TVA
Seen For Tennessee

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 7.—(AP)—A prediction that the Tennessee Valley Authority's program will make Tennessee the industrial capital of the nation, was made today by Paul Aymon, of Chattanooga, president of the Tennessee Federation of Labor.

As union laborers opened their annual state convention, Aymon told them that as a result of the TVA, "there will be unlimited hydroelectric power sold as cheap as it can be manufactured in the world."

"We have the natural resources, a healthy climate, rain, water and highway transportation," he continued. "New industries are certain to flock to Tennessee, opening up more and more jobs for crafts."

College Head Advises
Dates for Daughters

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 7.—(AP)—Too many boy friends for daughter are not to be feared as much as none at all, Dr. J. Edgar Park, president of Wheaton College, Norton, Mass., told a group of mothers today.

"A girl who has never been taught to swim," he said, "can't be expected to keep her head above water when thrown into the sea."

Young women at his college get all the masculine company they want on week-ends, he said, and it is "a very beautiful situation."

Dr. Park said originality, leadership and versatility are to be found more frequently in graduates of small girls' colleges than in graduates from larger institutions, especially state universities.

REORGANIZATION OF AIR CORPS SEEN

Committee Report Charges Foulis With Law Violations in Contracting.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—A thorough reorganization and house cleaning in the administration of the army air corps was proposed by a committee today after a subcommittee had reported that Major General Benjamin Foulis, chief of the corps, had violated the law governing contract letting.

Representative Rogers, democrat, New Hampshire, who presented the report, told reporters later in suggesting the reorganization:

"From the evidence already submitted it is readily seen that a proper cleanup may result in some requests for court-martial and a definite change in the policy which has been followed by the chief of the air corps in conjunction with Wright field."

"Evolution of the true intent of the 1926 law is so apparent that both in the interests of the taxpayers and efficient aviation it is obvious that a radical change must be made at an early date."

The committee report dealt with $7,500,000 of public works funds set aside for the purchase of army airplanes.

It concluded with these words: "Your committee finds unanimously that every action taken in connection with this $7,500,000 allotment by Assistant Secretary of War Woodring was deemed by him required and fully justified, while the actions of the chief of the air corps, Major General Benjamin D. Foulis, are in our opinion and in the opinions of the judge advocate general of the army and the controller general of the United States in clear violation of existing law."

NOTED WRITER'S FATHER
REPORTED NEAR DEATH

SUMTER, S. C., May 7.—(AP)—Dr. J. A. Mood, Sumter physician and father of John Peterkin, widely known writer, was reported near death in a hospital here today following an operation.

State Spanish War Veterans Hear Address by Ohio Jurist

Both Judge Matthias and Colonel Grayson are past national commanders, and Steckel is the present Georgia commander. Staff photo by George Cornett.

"Serve America First," Judge Edward S. Matthias, justice of the supreme court of Ohio, told the convention of the Georgia division of the United Spanish War Veterans Monday at a session at the Anasay hotel, where Monday night veterans were entertained at a dance and dinner. Resolutions also will be adopted today.

Judge Matthias was introduced by Colonel William L. Grayson, of Savannah. Both are past commanders in chief of the United Spanish War Veterans.

Officers for the year will be elected at the closing meetings today, which began at 9 o'clock this morning in the civic room of the Anasay hotel, where Monday night veterans were entertained at a dance and dinner. Resolutions also will be adopted today.

PHONE RATE HEARING IN TENNESSEE TODAY

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 7.—(AP)—The four-city request for a telephone rate cut in Tennessee will be voiced in a hearing before the state railroad and public utilities commission for the first time tomorrow with the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph

Company contending that if any change is made in rates "there should be an increase therein."

Asking that the local exchange business of the company be investigated with a view to reducing "rates, tolls, schedules and charges," mayors and city attorneys of Memphis, Chattanooga, Knoxville and Nashville filed a petition with the commission last summer. They are seeking a 20 per cent reduction.

HARRINGTON CHOSEN NEW JURY FOREMAN

May-June Body Asked To Consider Presentments of Foregoing Group.

The May-June grand jury was organized and charged Monday by Judge Virlyn B. Moore, who asked the body to consider the presentments made by the March-April body and stressed particularly the outgoing jury's recommendations as to a new juvenile detention home. Judge Moore pointed out that while the March-April jury was charged by law with the specific duty of investigating county affairs, any grand jury has the right to investigate any matter it sees fit and suggested that the matter of the juvenile home and a reformatory for boys between 16 and 21 years of age be considered further.

W. E. Harrington, insurance executive, of 60 Madox drive, was chosen foreman, and R. C. Mizell, real estate dealer and executive secretary of the Taxpayers' League, was elected secretary. Twenty-two jurors were sworn in Monday and a remaining member will be chosen Friday. In addition to the officers, other grand jurors are:

C. R. Just, 378 Ninth street, N. E., building contractor; W. T. Lambert, 243 Eighth street, N. E., contractor; M. A. Thompson, 781 Virginia circle, cattle dealer; Atlanta National bank; Arnold D. Gregory, 389 Atlanta place, secretary-treasurer; Corley-Powell Produce Company; J. T. McCloskey, 380 Tenth street, with Mack's Potato Crop Company; Grover C. Heyer, 112 St. Louis place, traffic manager; Campbell Coal Company; W. M. Aldridge, Ben Hill, farmer; H. R. Carson, 365 Peachtree-street, farmer; owner Henry Grady hotel; W. G. Lane, 1141 Route 1, American Surety Company; E. P. Crutcher, 922 Penn avenue, chief commercial agent; Western Union Telegraph Company; F. E. Norris, 466 Juniper street, superintendent; Railway Express Agency; C. H. Menzel, 945 Edgewood avenue, with Stratton; Press, J. E. Adams, 630 Parkway drive, manager General Oil Company; J. E. Millett, 1 Polo drive, vice president; Clayton & Co.; Harry A. Cole, 401 American street, commercial artist; L. A. Williams, 278 Peachtree road, district manager; Pennsylvania Railroad Company; J. W. Rucker, Roswell, Ga., farmer; R. L. Martin, 15 Holly street, Center Hill, automobile mechanic; W. R. Darrin, Route 3, Alpharetta, farmer; J. C. Cruise, Red Oak, farmer.

Oh, yes they do

When people fail to accept the distress signals by which nature forewarns one of impending danger, would you say it is neglect or downright indifference?

Some people, with impaired vision, are that way. Can't read newspaper type. Can't see to thread a needle. Yet they stumble along taking no heed of the warning which nature has thrown out.

What a pity it is that people procrastinate when defective vision can easily be corrected if given proper attention, in time. Any impairment of the eyesight should have prompt attention. An eye examination will disclose the true condition.

STORES HEAVY USERS OF NEWSPAPER SPACE

Newspapers continued to be by far the most heavily used advertising medium for the country's major department stores in 1933, according to figures made public by the sales promotion division of the National Retail Dry Goods Association.

In an analysis of advertising expenditures among department and specialty stores during the last year, the sales promotion division found that from 67.6 to 69.8 cents of every advertising dollar spent by the stores was devoted to newspaper advertising. Furthermore, the stores doing the largest volume of business, with sales over $10,000,000, spent the most on newspaper advertising.

According to the survey, stores under $1,000,000 volume spent 67.6 per cent of their advertising appropriation on newspaper advertising, those from one to two million volume spent 68 per cent, from two to five million 67.7 per cent, from five to ten million 68.9 per cent, and over ten million 69.9 per cent.

Commenting on these figures, Paul E. Murphy, chairman of the sales promotion division and advertising manager of Frederick Looser & Co., Brooklyn, said, "The nearly uniform distribution of the publicity dollar regardless of the size of the store is decidedly interesting. It seems even more unusual that the largest volume group leads with the greatest portion devoted to newspaper space. This is a tribute to the pulling power of newspaper advertising."

The survey indicated that newspaper advertising during 1934 will continue to monopolize advertising expenditures in the retail stores. However, the majority of the stores polled are expecting that increased sales during the coming year will decrease the total publicity expenditure in relation to sales. This will not mean, according to Mr. Murphy, that the stores will do less advertising, but that more sales will lower the percentage cost, even though the stores will actually spend more than in 1933 in dollars and cents.

On the Air Today

CARROCA—The graceful, torso-moving rhythms of the tropical "Carroca" will be the highlight of the Caravan broadcast tonight, over WGST from 8 to 8:30 o'clock, when Connie Boswell lends her warm voice to a special version of it. Another feature will be a nutty satire on morning radio programs, "Colonels Stonington and Budd" will rehearse their conception of the ideal morning broadcast to the accompaniment of their new theme song, "Leap From Your Couch With a Grouch." Glen Gray's Casa Loma orchestra will, as usual, perform the latest dance tunes and furnish the musical background for the other numbers.

ROYAL COMMAND—A broadcast direct from London's famous Palladium theater will be transmitted to the CBS and WGST audience this afternoon as an all-star English variety show will be presented at the royal command of King George and Queen Mary. A special program, written by John Drinkwater, will open the broadcast at 1:00 p. m.

ORMANDY CONCERT—Works of Johann Strauss, Victor Herbert and Ippolitov-Ivanoff will be performed by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, under the baton of Eugene Ormandy, in the broadcast over WGST tonight from 7:30 to 8 o'clock. The program will be as follows:

"Olympus in the Underworld".... Offenbach
"Roses from the South".... Strauss
"Yesterday-Thinkings".... Victor Herbert
"March of the Sals" from "Caucasian Sketches".... Ippolitov-Ivanoff

PULITZER WINNER—Caroline Miller, whose "Lamb in His Bosom" has been awarded the Pulitzer prize for 1934, will speak to the nationwide Columbia audience, through WGST locally, this afternoon from 1:45 to 2 o'clock. She is a Georgian.

CONCERT—Military music will dominate the concert to be offered by the Seventh Regiment band, Lieutenant Francis W. Sutherland directing, over CBS and WGST this afternoon from 2 to 2:30 o'clock. Sousa's "Washington Post March" will open the program and later the band will offer the "National Emblem March" by Bagley. Selections from De Koven's "Robin Hood"; Gault's "Spiritual River"; and Guion's "Home on the Range," will be performed.

Man Put Back in Gang For 'Drunken Driving'

E. S. Spear, 32, of 68 Clark street, who was released in February from the chain gang, where he had served six months upon conviction for drunken driving, Monday was ordered back for another four-month stretch for a repetition of the same offense.

Judge Jesse M. Wood, in city criminal court, gave Spear a 12-month sentence, four to serve and eight on probation, after it had been testified that a short time after his release from the gang he ran into an automobile driven by S. C. Tuck, city policeman, and that he was intoxicated at the time.

Leard Phillips, 17, of Chamblee, Ga., was fined $25 and given 12 months on probation, after he had pleaded guilty to drunken driving. He will not be permitted to drive.

REV. JOHN M'SWEEEN SEMINARY SPEAKER

Rev. John McSweeney, D. D., of Clinton, S. C., will deliver the baccalaureate sermon, beginning the commencement of Columbia Theological Seminary, Decatur, at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. This is the 106th annual commencement of the seminary. Dr. McSweeney will deliver his sermon at the First Presbyterian church.

During Sunday evening, a missionary address will be made at the Oakhurst Presbyterian church by Rev. Dudley Jones, D. D., also of Clinton. Student officers of the seminary will be installed at 11 o'clock Monday morning. R. McClain, Ph. D., LL. D., of Decatur, will deliver the address at this ceremony. The senior banquet will be Monday evening, Tuesday. Annual commencement exercises, with Rev. A. A. Little, of Meridian, Miss., conferring degrees, will be at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday.

BUSINESS WILL SUPPLY ADVICE FOR ROOSEVELT

Leaders To Enjoy Semi-Official Status in Advancing Ideas.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(AP)—Business leaders have worked out a plan whereby they, in a semi-official status, may keep President Roosevelt supplied with a constant stream of economic advice.

Partly at the suggestion of the president, these leaders, comprising the business advisory and planning council of the department of commerce, have undertaken to keep some men continually in Washington to study and report, and to confer personally with Mr. Roosevelt.

The idea is to have the business viewpoint presented in a fashion clear, non-partisan both from the aspect of special interests within business, and from the aspect of political philosophy.

Expansion. The council was established several months ago by Secretary Roper to advise on how to increase the efficiency of the department of commerce. Under present plans this advisory capacity would be expanded to encompass virtually all of the government and its economic problems.

Headed at its organization by General Swope, president of General Electric Company and sponsor of plans for more business organization in government, the council has adopted a rotating executive committee and chairmanship plan so that all members may serve.

Swope has been succeeded by S. Clay Hains, former president of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, who resigned that office and became vice chairman, in order to devote more time to the council's work and to his job as vice chairman for industry on the national labor board.

Other members of the council, who are also members of the executive committee which hopes to work almost continuously in Washington, are W. Averell Harriman, currently special assistant to General Johnson, NRA chief; H. P. Kendall, Kendall Company, Boston, and George H. Mead, Mead Corporation, Dayton, Ohio.

Henry I. Harriman, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States; John H. Farley, publisher and chairman of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation; Walter C. Taggart, president, Standard Oil of New Jersey, and others also are members.

The council shortly will send a committee through the Tennessee Valley to study the government's work there and to report to the council as a whole and the public.

In Georgia's Fields and Streams

By H. A. CARTER

The fence lizards, known as Sceloporus undulatus, have predominated the collections so far this year. There is not a single Georgia species that has not been taken in the five weeks just past.

The spiny swifts, or fence lizards, or pine lizards, or blue-bellied swifts, which ever name you choose to apply, are out in great numbers and being more easily seen and shot have run five to one over other species.

In case you cannot remember what these little fellows look like, I want to refresh your memory. Any brown lizard, with or without a pattern of gray-brown cross lines on the back, with bright blue areas outlined in black on the belly in the case of the male or faint traces of blue in the case of the female, is likely to be your species. If you see it in Georgia it will be this particular sort.

The animal measures up to six or seven inches over all, but has the appearance of being somewhat shorter because of the proportions of the tail. The scales are pointed and spiny, reminding one strongly of the horned "lizards" of the west, to which they are really quite closely related.

Sceloporus is really a most interesting species. I have a weakness for them that I cannot overcome. I have cast them in plaster of paris time and again but never with any marked degree of success. Their spines make a perfect print in a paraffin mold, but the ability to judge the exact consistency of the plaster necessary to take up these fine details is beyond my power as yet. However, it will come with time.

Mounting lizards is not done by skinning and fitting the animals over the artificial body as in other forms of taxidermy, but in reproducing the animal entire and painting the plaster cast in natural colors. Since the color of a reptile or amphibian is dependent upon its metabolism at any particular instant, colors do not remain in the skin. The brilliant blue of the Sceloporus male fades into an ashy gray in preserving fluid. Therefore to preserve their natural colors, we use oil paint on plaster reproductions of the animal. Such methods are more nearly sculpture than taxidermy, but are infinitely more satisfactory.

If you want a hobby that is inexpensive and takes skill, let me suggest that you try this modeling of lizards. There are books that can give directions, and I will be glad to help you after you have tried it once. A few points there might do more good. I have made good casts of every other Georgia lizard, but the spiny swift still defies my best efforts. Let me see you try it!

6 PERSONS RECEIVE VARIETY OF HURTS IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

A series of automobile accidents, police and Grady hospital reported, brought injuries to six persons during the early hours of Monday. The records showed the following:

Joe Pepper, 50, of Chamblee, received a possible fractured skull when thrown from an automobile at Peachtree road and Club drive.

John E. Burnett, 19, of Brookhaven, received a fracture of the collar bone during the same crash, a collision.

Mrs. Phillip Bartley, 17, of 21 Rawson street, was thrown from the rear of a truck when the machine gave a sudden lurch, and she received fractured ribs.

W. J. Tatum, 43, and his wife, 28, were given treatment after their automobile and another had crashed, Tatum receiving fractured ribs when his body struck the steering wheel.

Two-year-old Donald Dilbeck, 2877 Elliott circle, almost lost two fingers from his left hand when he was

4 ATLANTANS HURT MOTORING TO DERBY

Four Atlanta men, en route to the Kentucky Derby, received serious injuries late Friday when their automobile crashed into a telephone pole, near Sewanee, Tenn., it was learned here Monday.

Dr. J. M. Manford, 6295 Sherwood road, a physician, sustained a jaw fracture; T. A. Meadows, 9176 Palmetto drive, N. E., received a fracture of the jaw and lacerations, and J. L. Evans, 483 Wabash avenue, N. E., was brought to Georgia Baptist hospital in a semi-conscious condition due to concussion.

C. C. Church, driver of the automobile, and a pharmacist in the Medical Arts building, was removed to his home at Winchester, Tenn., following the accident. His condition is not serious.

Take A TIP from the Expert MODEL MAKER

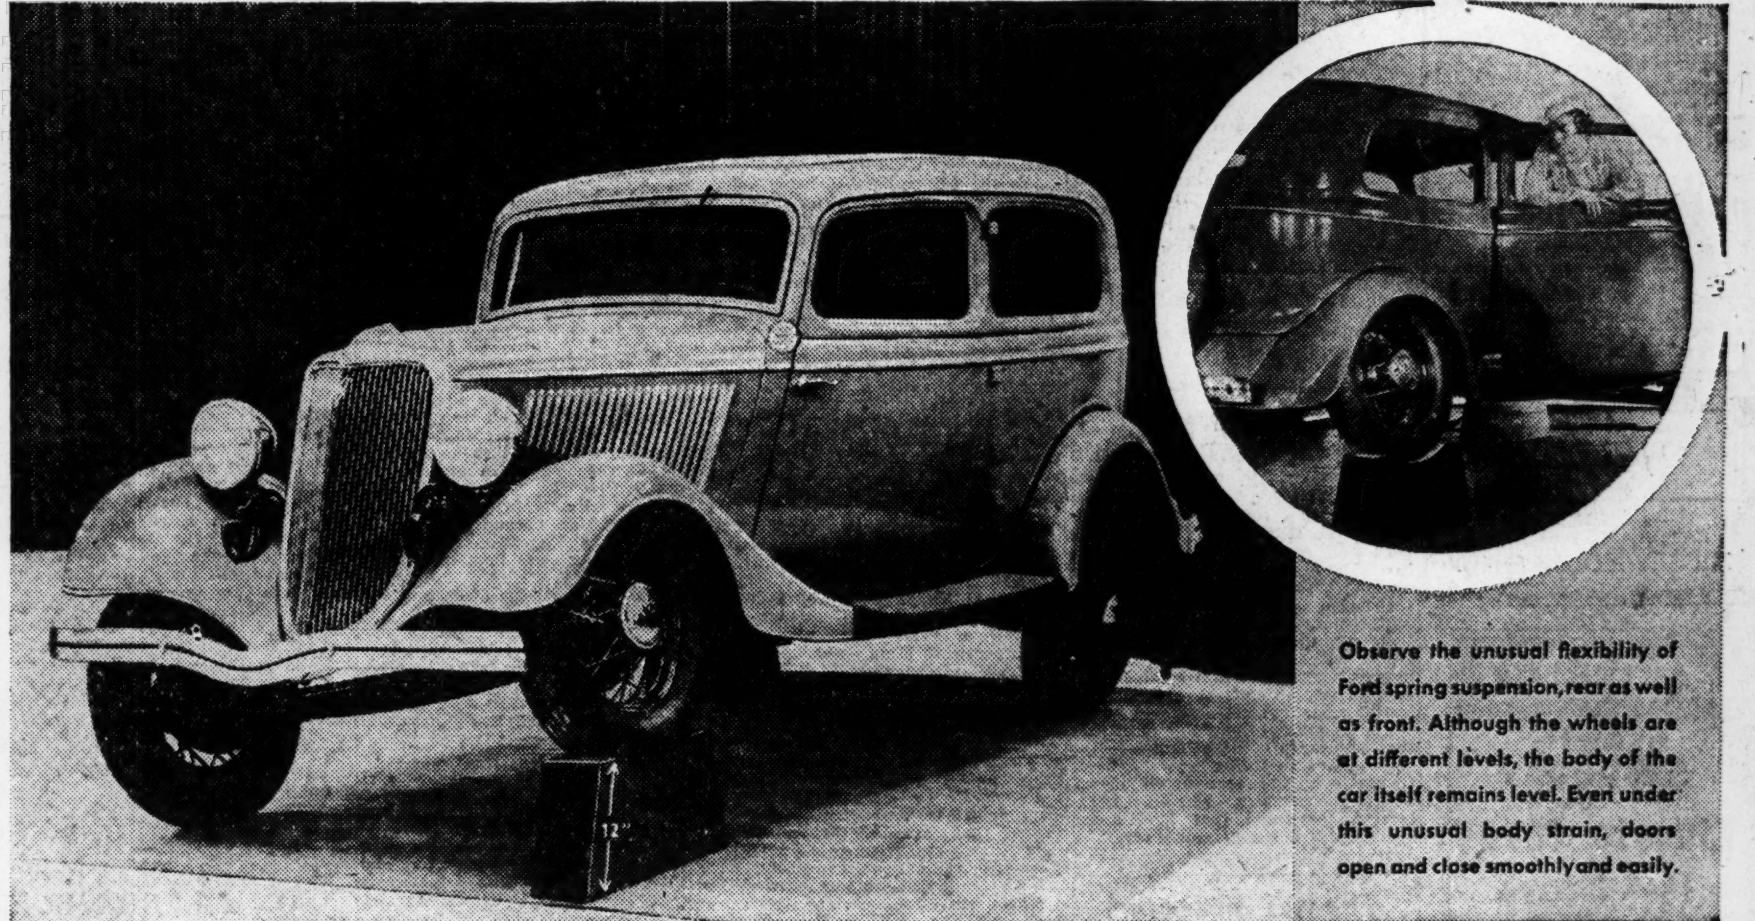

One expert model maker who uses Black Diamond Files told us recently that he uses Files for 55% of the work of building a model boat and for 40% of the jobs in connection with making a model train. While this case may not be typical it indicates the general usefulness of files in model work.

Take a tip from expert model makers and have a complete set of Black Diamond Files in your shop. They are indispensable for model work and for full size jobs. They are equally efficient in industrial plants. Each one is a quality file.

SINCE 1883 THE STANDARD OF QUALITY

Observe the unusual flexibility of Ford spring suspension, rear as well as front. Although the wheels are at different levels, the body of the car itself remains level. Even under this unusual body strain, doors open and close smoothly and easily.

AMERICA'S FASTEST SELLING CAR

Free Action for all 4 wheels

plus the safety of a front axle and comfort of Cantilever Springs

A GREAT deal of thought is being given today to springs. Various experiments are being tried in an effort to get independent action for an automobile's front wheels.

All of which is simply another tribute to the soundness of Ford engineering and the Ford V-8 for 1934. When you drive this car you get free action not only for the front wheels—but for all 4 wheels.

Ford transverse cantilever springs provide individual suspension for both front and rear axles. In the new Ford these springs have been made more flexible. This type of construction is not experimental and has the advantage of unequalled comfort plus the proved safety of a front axle.

This new Ford combines V-8 power with gasoline economy—20 miles to the gallon at a speed of 45 miles per hour, in exhaustive road runs. It will do 80 miles an hour without difficulty. At 50 or 60 miles per hour it is actually running at ease!

This reserve power means acceleration unequalled by practically any other make of American automobile, regardless of cost.

HAL KEMP ORCHESTRA TO PLAY HERE TONIGHT

Famous Radio Group Offers
Dance-Concert at Shrine Mosque.

Hal Kemp and his famous orchestra will play for a dance-concert at the Shrine mosque tonight. St. Russell Bridges, manager of the Alhambra theatre, which is sponsoring the attraction, stated Monday that there are a few tickets for the dance still available, either at Cable Piano Company or at the Alhambra office at 1221 Mortgage Guarantee building.

Owing to the determination not to overcrowd the dance floor, a rigid limit has been set on the number of tickets to be sold. If any are still available an hour before the opening of the dance, they will be placed on sale at the mosque box office.

Kemp ranks as one of the most popular dance orchestra conductors of the year. Both at the Blackhawk Night Club in Chicago, where he has played for the past two years, and on his nightly radio broadcasts over the NBC chain, he is known for the real music which he brings to dance music and for the delightful originality of his arrangements and instrumentalization. He is bringing his entire orchestra to Atlanta on this, his first southern tour. In addition, there will be a number of soloists, including "Skinny" Ennis and the charming Maxine Gray.

This attraction is the closing number on the Celebrity series for this season. Holders of the celebrity season tickets will be admitted to concert seats for the Kemp program and, if they prefer to dance, may secure dance floor tickets at a slight extra charge.

Capitol Stage Show Best Yet Presented

Undoubtedly the "Diamond Revue" on the Capitol stage this week is the best flesh and blood entertainment this theatre has offered us since it adopted the combination stage-screen policy. The show is snappy, fast and colorful. And, by the liberal use of rhinestones in scenery and costumes, it justifies, in theatrical symbolism, its "Diamond" title.

Particularly clever is a trio of comedy dancers and a comedy juggler who is described as an "Australian." Spectacular scenes reach their apogee in the number where the girls dance on top of large, glittering rhinestone-studded balls.

The orchestra is particularly snappy in its performance and also gets away nicely with the Leide-conducted overture. Only point of improvement desirable is that the show might not hesitate in one or two places if the master of ceremonies did a little less mastering.

The feature on the screen is "Search for Beauty," which introduces a new beauty contest winner who has reached Hollywood in the last few years, from any spot on the globe. The picture ranks as a first-class entertainment.

It starts out with a plot revolving around the struggle between the spirit of honesty and the satyr of racketeering to control a physical culture magazine. But, happily for the entertainment value of the picture, it changes its mind half way through and becomes a musical comedy.

Manager Earl Holden is rightfully proud of his show, particularly of his stage show.

Farnell Burlesquers In Final Atlanta Week

This is the farewell week at the Atlanta theatre for Hap Farnell and his burlesque troupe. Farnell has played such a lengthy engagement at this house. Next Monday an entirely new burlesque company comes in—new girls, new principals, comedians, producers and all.

For their good-bye week the old company has put on a show that will leave a pleasant memory with all their admirers. It is snappy, fast, funny and attractive. There are several flashy stage settings and the dancing is especially good.

Eleven girls in the line achieve a precise rhythm better than they have ever done before. Then there is a new man who offers a really hot dance just before the close of the first half, while Joe Stanley, who hasn't danced half enough in the opinion of the crowds, does a waltz clog that just compelled applause.

Hap Farnell is at his funniest, with Roy Butler rivaling him as a laugh producer. Then there is Ollie Hodges, as usual, supplying the snappy patter with his singing. Especially a number that he indicated he wrote himself, titled "You'll Want Me to Want You Some Day."

Helen Walters is the principal soprano, with a couple of other shapely girls also doing snappy solo numbers. And Flo Farnell is a very plentiful elf in the black outs.

Regular patrons of the Atlanta voice regret at seeing the old company go, but add that they are eagerly waiting to see the new company which is coming here from Louisville.

There will be the usual performances twice daily all week, at 2:30 and 8:30, with the box office open at 10 a. m. for reservations.

LOAN PLANS STUDIED FOR TIMBER LANDS

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Governor W. L. Myers, of the farm credit administration, today advised Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, that land bank commissioners were giving careful study to loan policies in connection with timber lands used for turpentine and rosin production in southeastern states. Specific instructions regarding loans to these timber lands, which are now in process of preparation, will be sent to all federal and bank officials of the administration.

The administration fully recognizes the importance of naval stores to the southeast, according to Senator George, who has been active in behalf of the industry. The senator expressed the belief that land banks would work out a helpful program.

Caroline Miller, Georgia Novelist Feted on First Visit to New York

NEW YORK, May 7.—(AP.) A South Georgia housewife came to New York today to receive acclaim as a literary celebrity.

Mrs. Caroline Miller, author of the Pulitzer prize novel, "Lamb in His Bosom," started on a round of teas, parties, dinners—the fetes of a distinguished visitor—but she was thinking mostly of her husband and three children whom she left behind at their Baxley, Ga., home.

Still wearing her green traveling blouse and skirt, Mrs. Miller curled up in a chair at her hotel and talked with the interviewers who streamed into her room during the day.

"This was her first visit to New York," she said.

"To be honest," Mrs. Miller said, "I've never been out of Georgia much. I went to Tennessee on my wedding trip, but I didn't see much of the scenery. And I've been in Florida a little. That's all."

The prize-winning "Lamb in His Bosom" was not the first of Mrs. Miller's writings to reach the public, she revealed.

"I wrote a play five years ago called 'Red Calico,' she told reporters, and the Savannah Little theatre did it. I can't imagine why."

Her husband is "just grand" as her writing, Mrs. Miller said, adding: "My husband is himself. Mrs. Miller's husband and says he likes it."

Although she is only 30, Mrs. Miller has been married 13 years. Her husband, William Dews Miller Jr., is superintendent of schools at Baxley and has been her English teacher when they married in her senior year at high school. She never went to college.

"In fact," the prize winner continued, "I was a housewife for half a year."

Two of his associates were convicted for a ballot theft.

A managing editor, past 60, who wanted to return to the newspaper firing line and again become a reporter, won the award for outstanding foreign correspondence.

Frederick T. Birchall had been a news executive for the New York Times 27 years when, in 1932, he went abroad at the request of the New York Times European staff.

Birchall, now 63, is an Englishman who has spent most of his entire career in the United States, to which he came in 1933.

He joined the Times staff in 1905 as night city editor and later was named editor of the paper. From January, 1926, until the end of 1931 he was acting managing editor.

It was the second Pulitzer award for his work. He had received the prize for the best cartoon of 1930.

The 1933 cartoon "California Points With Pride" was based on the "California Points With Pride" cartoon, which was based on the "California Points With Pride" cartoon, which was based on the "California Points With Pride" cartoon.

For the best American biography, teaching patriotic and unselfish service to the people, $1,000: "John Hay," by Tyler Bennett, a professor at Princeton University.

For the best volume of verse published during the year by an American author, $1,000: Robert Hillyear, a professor at Radcliffe College.

Honorable mention for the reportorial award went to: Elen A. Ayers, Andrew J. Clarke and Edward J. Kelley, of the Boston bureau of the Associated Press for their "vigilance and courage" in covering the kidnapping of Margaret McMath, at Harwichport, Mass.

Edward J. Donohoe, of the Milwaukee bureau of the Associated Press, for his work in setting forth corruption in office on the part of members of the public school boards in Luzerne county, Penn.

H. Ellwood Douglass, of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, for his accounts of the epidemic of encephalitis in St. Louis.

Meigs O. Frost, of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, for his reporting of the case of Pearl Ledet, accused of causing a death in an automobile accident.

Charles J. Truitt, correspondent of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, in covering the district of Ocean City and Salisbury, Md., after several storms in the history of the eastern shore had severed all communications.

Frederick Wolman, of the New York World-Telegram, for his reporting of the status of various closed banks in the suburban areas of New York after the national bank holiday.

Scholarships. Three traveling scholarships, valued at $1,500 each, to graduates of the Columbia School of Journalism, to enable them to spend a year in Europe to study the social, political and moral conditions of the continent and the character and principles of the European press, were awarded to Fred Guin, of North Bergen, N. J.; Harold A. Benjamin, of Chicago, and Betty Turner, of Oakland, Cal.

The three alternates are Mark J. Ginsburg, of Shanghai, China; Joseph E. Manning, of Boston, Mass., and Mary Joann Durham, of Greenville, S. C.

Perceval Price, of Ottawa, Canada, was awarded the annual $1,500 scholarship to the Columbia School of Journalism, to enable him to spend a year in America who "may be deemed the most talented and deserving," so that he may continue his studies with the advantage of European instruction.

The $1,500 annual scholarship to an American student was won by Cathal O'Toole, of Long Island City, New York.

Brier, who received the reportorial award, worked continuously for 16 hours covering the San Jose lynching for the San Francisco Chronicle. Blinded by tear gas, men were flying bricks and manhandled by the mob, Brier and four assistants telephoned a running story from a garage across the street.

The mob had threatened to "string up" newspapermen alongside the kidnappers, but Brier mingled with the crowd and obtained the details. At 12:30 a. m. he wrote a telegraphic editorial, asked "Where Is Our Money?" and then supplied the answer: "In our pockets—we spent it."

Checks Insurrection. The Medford (Oregon) Mail-Tribune, winner of the award for meritorious public service, was credited with stemming a rising tide of insurrection in a bitter political fight by counseling sanity and logic.

One year ago, Jackson county, Oregon, was embroiled in a battle that verged on open warfare. An organization led by Llewellyn Banks, a defeated candidate for United States senator, was building defiance, threats and threatening "blood is likely to be spilled."

The Mail-Tribune, under the direction of Robert W. Ruhl, its editor, pleaded for straight-thinking and honesty.

in 14 Hours, 8 Minutes.

NEWARK, N. J., May 7.—(AP.) The army air corps, completing its job of carrying the mail, carried out a flight from Oakland, Cal., to Newark airport today in what it claimed to be record time for service over the northern transcontinental route, 14 hours 8 minutes.

It was a gesture very much like the one the private air lines made 11 weeks ago when the army took over the assignment. Then a Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., ship traversed the southern route from Los Angeles to Newark in the elapsed time of 13 hours and 6 minutes.

The army set out today to make a record for the 2,732 miles and apparently made it. The route by way of Salt Lake City, Cheyenne, Omaha, Des Moines, Chicago and Cleveland, was 279 miles more than the southern track, which goes by way of Albuquerque, Kansas City and Columbus.

The flight began at 3:20 a. m. on Monday, May 7, and was completed at 5:28 p. m., eastern standard time. As far as Cheyenne a Martin B-10 bomber was used, and the average speed was 188 and an hour including stop-out for the stop at Salt Lake City.

Lieutenant Robert L. Schoenlein was the pilot of this first ship. On the second flight, however, a 12 engine pursuit ship was used, its speed averaging 161 miles an hour against head winds.

At Chicago, the army turned to a Martin bomber again, and at Cleveland Lieutenant Elwood R. Quesada, one of the veterans of the corps and chief pilot of the Newark-Cleveland route, was in command.

It was Quesada, dark, handsome, daring, who sat at the controls of the army's first long range pursuit ship, a Curtiss P-26, on the day that day and today, favored by fine weather, brought his ship in from Cleveland in 1 hour 38 minutes, the army said.

On the other hand, the record was set by the TWA ship, used over the southern route on February 19, was a Douglas air liner, constructed for quick conversion into a transport or bomber.

It carried Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, one of the nation's most famous aviators, and was piloted by Captain Eddie Rickenbacker.

The last army mail flight westward from Newark airport started at 4:30 p. m., eastern standard time, today.

Lieutenant Albert Boyd was in command of the ship, which was piloted by Boyd, and was headed for its destination, Cleveland. The last eastbound ship is scheduled to arrive at noon tomorrow.

Civic, Commercial, Industrial Life To Swing Over
Easily When Key Gives The Word.

With the exception of transportation systems which operate into other cities, Atlanta's civic, commercial, industrial and individual life will swing over to daylight saving time without much difficulty, whenever Mayor James L. Key gives the word.

The operation will be simple. During some night to be designated by the city, the signs of the clock on all clocks in the city will be turned ahead one hour. When Atlanta awakens next morning the operation will be completed and the new time a reality.

The ordinance specifies that official clocks of the city be turned ahead at the time specified by the ordinance, then, for citizens to follow voluntarily at their own lead.

I am of the opinion that the Retail Merchants' Association, as a group, and all other civic, commercial and industrial interests, will immediately follow the city's example," said Frank H. Neely, of Rich's, Inc., and prominent in the merchant association's affairs.

"No one will notice the difference after the first day, and I am certain that after the system has been in use a short time our citizens will be delighted with the result."

Two Systems of Time. Daylight saving time, which will give Atlanta two systems of time, "Atlanta time" and "railroad time."

"Railroads in the Atlanta territory operate on a standard time, (eastern and standard) at present," was said at the office of H. C. Garrison, superintendent of Atlanta Terminal.

"Trains, therefore, will continue to arrive and depart under standard time."

W. F. Arrington, regional manager of Greyhound Lines, said his system will continue to operate on standard time. Coaches of that company arrive and depart with both eastern and central standard time.

During the summer of 1915, on May 21, the United States senate, without a roll call, passed a nation-wide daylight savings bill, which became effective at 2 o'clock in the morning, Easter Sunday, 1918.

A few years ago Atlanta voted on the question of adopting eastern standard time, but the project lost by a small vote.

In some states there are laws against daylight saving regulations. Wisconsin has a law against observance of daylight saving time, making it an offense to show other than eastern standard time on clocks publicly displayed. Maine adopted a similar law in 1925.

In New Hampshire, any community adopting other than standard time is liable to a fine of $500.

During the controversy on the question in England, the statement was made that daylight saving is based upon self-deception in "rising at 5 o'clock and making yourself believe it is six."

certainly make adjustments so that business relations between Hapeville and Atlanta could be carried on without confusion. Hapeville council will meet later this month and the matter will probably be considered.

No mention of daylight saving time was made at a meeting of the council of East Point Monday night, Mayor Howard C. Cantrill said, although it is practically certain that East Point will adopt the change if Mayor Key gives his approval to the measure.

College Park, as in East Point, Hapeville will vote on the question of daylight saving time on Monday night, the council said.

Mayor E. D. Barrett asserted that the councilmen voted unanimously to follow Atlanta's lead in the matter. The mayor said so many residents of College Park, as in East Point, Hapeville, will vote on the question of daylight saving time that they necessarily have to be governed by Atlanta time.

that a new city code be prepared. The last one was compiled in 1924.

10. Overrode votes by the mayor to proposals asking state exemption of property from the value of $2,000 from ad valorem taxation, and seeking to reduce the $1,500,000 city deficit over a five-year period. Vote on the first was 30 to 10, and on the second 34 to 10.

11. Heard a commendatory message from the Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association because of the fact that the council had overrode the "clamping down" on employees and made them pay their bills.

Committee Overridden. In voting daylight saving time for Atlanta, the council overrode the recommendation of its ordinance committee, headed by Councilman John M. Owen.

Owen presented the measure, and it was a signal for a general outbreak. Alderman Hailey, who was not present at the public hearing last week when the committee decision was reached, took the floor as author of the measure and its principal advocate.

"Any vote against this is impelled by selfishness," Hailey asserted. "This is not a question of aristocrats or labor. Mothers of Atlanta do not oppose this issue. It will benefit a large army of white collar workers and it will not hurt anyone. I challenge any statement that organized labor opposes it. There are petitions from power companies and telephone companies here despite the fact that the utilities are reported to be opposing it. It will save electric bills. The vast majority think the people of Atlanta want the change."

"Plenty of Daylight"—Owen. "Alderman Hailey made a good speech," McCutcheon said. "He says we have not voted on daylight saving time for 16 years. This is not so. We voted against it for five years consecutively in council several years ago. My ward is against it, and so am I."

"I have always opposed unnecessary hardships for any persons," Owen asserted. "There is plenty of daylight. Let those who want more of it go to work on it. There is no need to take this kind of action."

"I fear we are getting serious about a matter which no one will notice in 24 hours after the clocks are changed," Alderman Bob Carpenter said. "I am in favor of the change. I think it will help us all and hurt none of us."

"I have this one thought to give to the council," Berman asserted. "It will reduce accidents by permitting citizens to reach home before the twilight hour, the time of most of the traffic accidents."

"I have advocated what I believed to be for the best interests of the people generally for 30 years," Alderman J. Sid Tiller, co-author of the measure, told council. "It will save us a lot of trouble in the future. I have found only one of them in favor of the change."

"There are 21 organizations of railway workers here," Alderman John Scott, of the second ward and himself a railway worker, said. "I have found only one of them in favor of the change."

New regional non-resident members of the board elected, included: Mr. Henry C. Bryant, Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. Frederick R. Scott, Richmond, Va.; and Mrs. Harry A. Thompson, New Orleans.

International Co-operation Class Of Women Voters Plans Program

Mrs. Robert Church Jr., chairman of the class in international co-operation, sponsored by the Atlanta League of Women Voters, announces that on Thursday, May 10, the class will meet in the right parlor of the Y. W. C. A. An interesting program has been arranged for the period, "Keeping Abreast of the Times." A topic has been assigned to each woman who keeps a scrapbook of current events, on this subject alone. On Thursday the following reviews will be given from these individual scrapbooks: World Court, Mrs. James Conant; Austria, Mrs. Moore; Latin America, Miss Katherine Koch; Disarmament, Mrs. Thomas Stubbs; Peace, Mrs. E. S. Harrell; Mrs. Church will have charge of the good will day program at the league tea on May 15, to be held at league headquarters, where an interesting and unusual afternoon is planned. Miss Josephine Wilkins, of the board, will preside and will explain "Good Will Day." She will also plan a program of Shervelton and Mrs. Augustus Roan, newly elected regional director, and Mrs. Robert Church Jr., who will present the good will program. The Dramatic Club of Agnes Scott College will give the most discussed play, "War Brides."

Mrs. E. Martin Underwood of the Department of Women in Industry, and Mrs. Carlton Rines, of the Department of Child Welfare, and the Department of Group Study, "Our Children and the New Deal," under the auspices of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, announces an interesting program for Tuesday, May 8, at 11 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A.

The subject of "Children in Industry" in Georgia will be considered. Following their own method of study and first-hand investigation, members of the group will make reports as follows: an excellent illustration of the Georgia commissioner of commerce and labor, Mrs. Ronald Pentecost and Mrs. Lafayette Butler; an inquiry of social workers and city officials on street trade regulations and conditions for children, Mrs. Percy Rich and Mrs. Hill. There will also be reports on industrial home work by children. At 12 o'clock Miss Rhonda Kaufman, who is a nationally recognized authority on community health problems and director of family welfare, will speak and lead a discussion on "Our Children's Health." The final meeting of the series will be held Tuesday, May 15, when the child labor amendment will be studied.

The department of public welfare of the fifth district Georgia P. T. A. and the Atlanta League of Women Voters will sponsor a five-hour course of study on the subject of "Public Welfare," both state and national, at Bass Junior High school on Friday, May 11, at 9:30 o'clock.

The P. T. A. national handbook recommends co-operation between these two organizations, since their interests are identical. R. H. Dominick, director of public welfare, is prominent both in P. T. A. and the Atlanta League activities. Mrs. Paul Ackery is legislative chairman of P. T. A. and director of educational committee of the Atlanta League. Mrs. R. L. Turman is chairman of citizenship of the P. T. A., and chairman of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, and Mrs. George Price is chairman of education of the P. T. A. and active in all Atlanta League work.

A certificate will be awarded by both the P. T. A. and the Atlanta League of Women Voters to every woman who attends the whole five-hour session. Music in keeping with good will day will be furnished by the Bass Junior High school orchestra. A catered luncheon will be served at the school at 1:30 o'clock, at five cents a dish. Reservations may be made by phoning Mrs. L. L. Bond, DE-4230, or Mrs. H. W. Barron, DE-4858-W, or the office of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, WA-5472.

Giving the Adversaries a Guess.

Very often declarer finds himself in the unpleasant position of playing a contract which, on its face, seems simply unmakeable. This being so, he has two courses open to him: first, to take all the tricks he can and concede the balance; or, second, to play the hand as deceptively as possible, thereby trying to cause the defending side to make one or more mistakes. An excellent illustration of this occurred in a recent New York duplicate game.

Pattern 5144

A woman's picture of a dress of embroidery that makes you sorry when it's all done even though you're anxious to see it finished. Here are some suggestions for the dress.

Summer, too, all ready to be done in gay colors, so get out your bits of wool and start them blooming in French knot and lacy-daisy and before you know it this lovely picture—Garden Path—will be ready to hang on the wall and brighten your home.

And if you don't know where to hang it, present it to that bride-to-be—she'll love it!

In pattern 5144 you will find a transfer pattern 10x12 inches, a color key, material requirements and directions for making the picture.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Dept., The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Laura Shallenberger Heard in Recital.

At the Barill School of Music, on Saturday afternoon, Alfred Barill, dean of Atlanta music teachers, presented in recital one of the younger students from his piano classes, Laura Shallenberger, gifted young daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William F. Shallenberger, whose playing on this as on former occasions delighted the representative audience assembled by invitation to hear her.

For her third annual recital, the eleven-year-old pianist gave a program of genuine musical interest, 11 numbers and of an entire recital, including works of Rameau, Beethoven, Schubert, Tchaikowsky, Schumann, Chopin, Raff, Moszkowski, Schuetz, Widor and Barill, all mastered in one year, and played with memory with the surety and ease that comes from sound technique and careful training, and with a serious absorption that characterizes all her work.

In the first group, the theme and variations from the Sonata Opus 14, No. 2, by Beethoven, was outstanding for the clearness of phrase, purity of tone, and regard for form, unusual in so young a player. In the second group, the "June Breeze" by Tchaikowsky, was especially imbued with imagination and poesy, as was also the charming gavotte by Barill, which was rhythmically and musically played. The audience was warmly responsive in recognition of her fine work and evident growing power.

"Frizzed and Broken Hair!
I've Ended It for Good and All with ZOTOS!"

The oil in the Lotion and the little self-heating Vapets which steamed my hair gently for just a few minutes, certainly did the trick. My hair came out soft, shining, lustrous—not a break, not a frizz and, of course, for sheer comfort there is nothing like Zotos. I didn't even know there was any heat on my head and I was perfectly free to walk around or move all during it!

National and State Presidents Attend Convention Held Here

Several hundred delegates attended the sessions of the state convention of the Spanish War Veterans' Auxiliary on Monday, which were held at the Henry Grady hotel. The presence of Mrs. Mamie Schmidt, national president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Flonnie Beusse, of Athens, the Georgia president of the organization, adds luster to the convocation. Mrs. Mildred C. Rhodes, of Athens, department chief of staff, called the meeting to order.

Mrs. Schmidt is a former Georgian, and this is her second visit to her native land since being installed as the leader of the national auxiliary. Mrs. Schmidt came to Atlanta last January and was feted at several social affairs. She was educated at the convent of St. Peter and St. Paul in Atlanta, and attended the Dwight L. Moody school in Northfield, Mass. It was in Atlanta that she became the bride of L. D. Schmidt and they lived in the city until two years ago, when Mr. Schmidt's business interests took him to Washington. She has held several important offices in the Spanish War Veterans' Auxiliary before being elected to the presidency.

Mrs. Schmidt Honored.

Mrs. A. O. Woodward, senior vice president of the Georgia auxiliary, welcomed Mrs. Schmidt, the table being adorned with yellow and red flowers. TINY ROEBUCK LEAVES WORRY TO DICK SHIKAT

Indian Star Adds Weight; Stars Booked on Three-Match Program.

Tiny Roebuck is going to leave all the worrying to Dick Shikat, former world's champion, when these two behemoths of the wrestling world clash Wednesday night at Ponce de Leon park.

There is really no reason why Roebuck should worry. He's young and healthy. And, incidentally, he has boosted his weight to something like 175 pounds without becoming clumsy.

It's really Shikat's worry—this 90-minute limit, one-fall match. The former world's champion will have to go the limit to take the fall from Roebuck, because the big Indian is out for a match with Jim Londos, the champion. And a victory over Shikat would help no little.

AIMS TO PLEASE.
"I think the fans will be pleased with the new Roebuck," Matchmaker Henry Weber said last night. "He has grown up since his last appearance here. He now weighs about 175, and he is all man, as the fans know."

Weber is doing himself proud in the forthcoming card. He has matched Ivan Vachutov, the big Russian, with Dory Roche in the one-hour limit, one-fall semi-windup.

And in a promising preliminary there is Sol Slagle, who will take on Charley Struck.

The fans have been after Weber for some time to renew his old policy of presenting three heavyweight matches. And he has finally acquiesced.

GOOD ENTERTAINMENT.
From the first match to the last the fans will find plenty of wrestling entertainment. The feature match is, of course, one in a series of eliminations to find a suitable opponent for a match here with Londos.

Tiny Roebuck, with his added weight and knowledge of the tricks, thinks he is the logical one. And he is going to attempt to prove his point against Shikat.

Tickets are on sale only at the Piedmont Hatters at popular prices.

WOMEN'S PLAY HALTED BY RAIN

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 7.—(UP)—Mrs. Dave Gaut's brilliant pace-setting score of 83 in the qualifying round of the southern women's golf championships came to naught today when a cloudburst halted play at noon and all the day's scores were wiped off the boards.

Qualifying play will start again tomorrow.

Mrs. Gaut, of Memphis, four times winner of the southern title and veteran of 21 consecutive Dixie tournaments, played under orders from her physician to stop at once if appendicitis pains reappeared. She was stricken with the pains last night. Her score was four strokes better than that of Miss Anne C. Gordon, of Fort Worth, defending champion.

Mrs. Ben Fitz-Hugh, of Vicksburg, and Miss Mary Rogers, of Jacksonville Beach, carded 87, to the Miss Georgia for runner-up. Miss Edna Edgerly, 17-year-old Shreveport city champion, scored 88. Mrs. Tom Wallace, of Tulsa, shot an 89.

Ladies' par was the New Orleans Country Club course is 77.

Buresch Defeats Sarris With 'Kick'

Ted Sarris and Stanley Buresch, light-heavyweights, showed a packed house some real wrestling class last night at the Fair Street arena. Sarris took the first fall with an airplane spin after a sizzling tussle. Buresch unexpectedly countered with his famous kangaroo kick to win the second fall. Sarris could not return and the match was awarded to Buresch.

This was one of the best matches yet held at the Fair Street arena, with both men proving unusually capable. Spike O'Brien, the Arizona, made an instant hit with the crowd. He was making his bow in Atlanta, and was a 200-pound wildcat against Eddie Elzer, the great Dane. Elzer topped the first fall, but O'Brien took the second. The referee's draw decision found the crowd still pulling for O'Brien.

Dan Kelleher, Canadian wrestler, made his first appearance at the arena against Art Jordan. The Canadian was rough and the crowd booed him constantly. Jordan won the first fall when Kelleher was disqualified for roughness. Matchmaker Jason Thompson announced another high-class program would be presented next Monday night at the Fair Street arena.

Simmons Is Under Care of Doctors

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(UP)—Al Simmons, Chicago White Sox left fielder, was removed to Garfield hospital here today so that he might be given proper care. It was learned tonight.

Simmons was "knocked out" in the game with the Washington Senators yesterday as he made for second at the same time that Joe Cronin let go a throw for first that hit Simmons squarely on the head. Simmons was "out" for several minutes, but recovered sufficiently to finish the game. Garfield hospital said tonight that Simmons is "resting comfortably right now," but was reticent about his condition.

Five Juleps and He Asked for His Change in Confederate Bills

Louisville was laughing at this one Sunday morning as the hot sun broke and the Derby holdovers and hangovers began trekking out of hotels to morning trains.

There was one of these critics of the south who came to the Derby. It was his first visit south. He was being entertained by some wealthy friends but he was quite frank. He didn't like the south. The climate was atrocious, the food was no good, the southern people were morose and of little intelligence and so forth. And so on.

He had insisted on taking them to the Derby breakfast, which begins at 11 a. m. at the Downs and which leads off with a mint julep. It is followed by canapes of caviar, anchovies and so forth with fresh juleps arriving as soon as one is done.

He had a couple of juleps and he looked around at the crowd.

"You know," he said, sipping his third julep, "the south has some good points at that. Maybe I've been a little hasty."

More juleps came. The breakfast, broiled hickory-cured ham and hominy and light, fluffy biscuits, arrived. But the critic of the south lingered, his frosted, mint-crested glass in his hand.

"The climate," he said, "isn't as bad as I thought. And that sun looks beautiful on the turf. I didn't know ham could taste like this. Don't tell me it was carved from a common hog's rear leg? This isn't bread, is it?" he asked, as he consumed a biscuit, feeling it melt in his mouth. "This must be manna."

The waiter put a fresh julep glass in his hand. He stared across the blue grass of the infield.

"I expect I have misjudged the southern people," he said. "They aren't as bad as I thought." And so he mused on. There were more juleps. Finally the breakfast was done. The critic of the south took a fresh julep and stood.

"Boy," he said to the waiter, "here's a $50 bill for the breakfast. And BRING ME MY CHANGE IN CONFEDERATE MONEY."

At another Appomattox the mint julep had won.

NO CROWD LIKE THIS ONE.

There is no crowd like the Derby crowd. Nowhere else will there be so many grand people, so many frowsy old bums, and dirty young bums. Nowhere else will there be as many fine young men and as many furtive-eyed, soiled looking thugs selling "long shots." Shop girls, painted gals, all sorts and kinds.

Clerks and brokers and all professions.

And in the boxes the people with titles and millions and big farms at Lexington, the upkeep of which runs around $100,000 per year. The owners see them once or twice a year, usually for a week at Derby time.

When the crowd was gone Saturday afternoon and the lawns were deserted, the sight was an eerie one. Peering down from the high press coop at the deserted lawns they appeared to be, in the gathering gloom, covered with millions of queer-shaped toadstools.

There were literally thousands and thousands of banana boxes, peach baskets, soap boxes and the like—thousands and thousands of them left there on the lawn.

When the Derby comes to be run—which is the only race of eight they all try to see—they climb on their boxes and stand there for the time they are at the post until they have finished the race. Boys peddle the boxes before the race.

WHAT A SWEETHEART.

And what a sweetheart that little Mata Hari was!

She made the race for the first mile. True to form she was away like a flash and out in front. But before the first 16th was gone the big Irish colt, Sgt. Byrne, had moved up. He ran at her neck for almost a mile and wrecked the Van Dusen plans to let the field catch Mata Hari.

But I can see her yet—hugging that rail and running smoothly as a song—her brown silk body moving rhythmically and smoothly with the big colts thundering at her heels.

A mile of that and she was all gone. But she didn't quit. She came down to the finish pole, her legs going but no drive in them.

Big Cavalcade came by, eating up the distance with his big stride. He's bred for the mile and a quarter. It's the English blood—bred for the long races of England. Our horses have with few exceptions, been bred for the shorter distance.

It was curious to watch them—a big knot of horse flesh at first—led by that little honey Mata Hari. And then the knot began to lengthen out and was no knot at all. And then the mile and Cavalcade.

And as for a thrill—it's there for the Derby. So much has gone into it—so much of training and effort and speculation and hope—and to those who love horses it means even more.

I can turn from a close football game and start writing the lead; or begin a baseball yarn when there is still an out left.

But the Derby leaves them limp—I watched Saturday and there were few who could sit down and start the yarn. There had to be time for a cigaret and a breath of air. The thundering echo of hoofs and the hysterical scream of 60,000 people has to die out before one can get calm enough to think.

There are just a few really super-thrills in sport—the Derby—the 500-mile automobile race at Indianapolis—and a worthy while heavyweight prizefight. There really can't be any argument about this because they are the things which attract the people year after year, without fail. There are major thrills in any sport—all sport gives you an emotional wallop—a swift change in the pattern of existence—but for the super-thrills—look to events like the Derby.

WELCOME THOSE CRACKERS.

Atlanta should turn out a great crowd Sunday to welcome the Crackers. As one who went for the Crackers, early, rating them as a sure contending ball club after a relatively slow start, it is delightful to find the boys, three weeks after the season opened, up there tied for top place.

The Crackers had established a great record on the road which even a few defeats this week would not wipe out. It was a great pleasure to show the Cracker scores of last week to Messrs. Bill Keefe and Harry Martinez, of the New Orleans Picayune and States. When the Crackers passed New Orleans Mr. Keefe broke down and sobbed.

"Come up to Atlanta and see us," I urged of Mr. Keefe. "Never," he said, "not as long as New Orleans trails Atlanta."

GRANT, MOONEY WIN MATCHES IN INVITATION

Lott, Other Favorites Advance in First Round Play.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 7.—(UP)—Favorites, led by George Lott, of Chicago, the defending champion, came through the first round of the University Club Dixie invitation tournament today with victories over weaker opponents.

Lott defeated Joe Folk, respected Nashville (Tenn.) chop stroke artist, 6-0, 9-11, 6-4. The Davis cup star, after winning his first set easily, eased up in the second set, and before he realized his mistake, the Tennessee had the edge on him and took the set. Folk fought vigorously for the third and deciding set, but the Chicago ace was too much for him.

GRANT WINS.
Bryan (Bitter) Grant, the Atlanta "giant killer," eliminated Dickie Dunlap, a Paris (Tenn.) hopeful, 6-4, 10-8, in another match completed just before darkness halted play for the day.

Berkeley Bell, of New York and Texas, turned back Fred Andrews, of Birmingham, 6-3, 6-3, in another match that went according to expectations.

The late arrival of Lester Stofen, Los Angeles sensation, caused the postponement of his first-round match with Pollard Parsons, of Nashville, Tenn., until tomorrow.

Ed Barnett, of Little Rock, Arkansas state champion, defeated James Free, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., 6-4, 6-3, to win his way into second round.

HALL VICTORIOUS.
The late arrival of Lester Stofen, Los Angeles sensation, caused the postponement of his first-round match with Pollard Parsons, of Nashville, Tenn., until tomorrow.

Other first-round matches witnessed the defeat of John Hoblin, of the University of Mississippi, by J. Gilbert Hall, of South Orange, N. J., 6-1, 6-2, and the elimination of Rufus Stewart, of Gordon, Ark., 6-1, 7-5, by Fred Baggs, Chicago and Forest Hills, Long Island, veteran.

Darkness interrupted the match of Robert Little, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Paul Seavy, of Memphis, with Little leading, 6-5, 5-0. The second set will be finished tomorrow.

Robert (Lefty) Bryan, Chattanooga, Tennessee's outstanding contender, had a tough battle with Dunlap Campbell, of Brownsville, Tenn., but eliminated him, 7-5, 7-5.

Other matches saw Billy Hughes, Memphis, defeat John Grainger, Knoxville, 6-1, 6-3; Paul Metz, Memphis, defeat Dr. C. D. Wilder, Paris, Tenn., 6-2, 6-4; and D. O. Andrews, Memphis, take the measure of Kimbark Patterson, Nashville, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

MOONEY TRIUMPHS.
Robert Lake, Birmingham, stepped into the ring today by winning 6-2, 6-3, from Billy Leisinger, Memphis. Jack Mooney, Atlanta, former southern champion, stopped W. K. Wright, Hot Springs, Ark., 6-1, 6-0.

Stacy, of Memphis, and Harvey Terrell, Birmingham, was postponed until tomorrow.

CLEMSON WINS OVER GEORGIA

GAINESVILLE, Ga., May 7.—A five-year series of football games between the eighth inning today gave Clemson College a 5-2 triumph over the University of Georgia in the first of a two-game series. The teams will clash again tomorrow.

The Clemson-Georgia contests were scheduled late yesterday for the benefit of delegates to the Georgia Rotary convention. The United States Academy of Rowing and Canoeing clubs previously had been booked for the series, but Navy was forced to cancel owing to a misunderstanding on day.

Nearly 300 Rotarians witnessed today's engagement, which developed into a brilliant mound duel when Geer, of Georgia, and Alex Swails united in the disastrous eighth.

Georgia jumped into the scoring van in the first frame, when Ritchey beat out an infield hit and with one man gone Henry Wagner lambasted a home run to left center field.

Geer yielded seven well-scattered safeties for the first seven innings, but a streak of wildness, coupled with three hits, including a triple, and an error, cost him the ball game in the eighth.

Ritchey opened the Clemson eighth with a scratch hit through short. Sherman was hit by a pitched ball, and Henson then rolled a slow roller to third, loading the bases. Durham fled out to Wagon in center and Ritchey scored on the catch. Troutman was safe as when Moorehead booted his grounder, Sherman scoring. Cole connected for a three-bagger into right, scoring Henson and Troutman. Chavos singled to left, scoring Cole. Nichols then replaced Geer in the box and forced Cathcart to hit into a double play, Webb to Anderson. Georgia's four safe blows off Swails were scattered over four innings.

Gordon Defeats Brewton Parker

BARNESVILLE, Ga., May 7.—Gordon Institute won over Brewton Parker Institute, 5 to 4, here today. Harrison and Rountree lead the visitors' batting staff with three hits each out of five times up. Davis led for Gordon with three for four times up. Lefty Hanson pitches for Gordon tomorrow. He has won six games and lost one.

Bustling Buster Busts One

Buster Chatham, Cracker shortstop, banged a home run to help win the sixth straight for Atlanta's ball club yesterday when they opened in Little Rock. The team has won seven of nine games on the road and is in a tie for first place. Chatham is regarded as the finest shortstop in the minor leagues.

DISCOVERY TOPS PREAKNESS FIELD

BAITMORE, May 7.—(UP)—The decision of Trainer Robert A. Smith not to start Cavalcade, winner of the Kentucky Derby, in the Preakness next Saturday, left Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Discovery the favorite to win the Pimlico feature.

Discovery came in second in the Derby, three lengths behind Cavalcade. The race stamped him as one of the better three-year-olds.

Discovery ran another good race this year, finishing third in the Chesapeake at Havre De Grace. In that race, Mrs. Frank J. Heller's Agraria finished second, behind Cavalcade, but Discovery was well in front of Agraria Saturday in the Derby.

Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane, owner of Cavalcade, will have another good colt eligible for the Preakness and her trainer, "Bob" Smith, has indicated that this colt, High Quest, will be called upon to carry the Sloan colors. High Quest was victorious in the $5,000 Wood Memorial.

Among the other good horses expected to compete in the Preakness is Frank A. Carraud's Time Supply, known as a speed merchant.

Matt L. Daiger, secretary of the Maryland Club, announces that all reservations have been taken for Preakness Day.

Golf Team Meet At Dinner Tonight

Two teams still are tied in the dinner tournament at the Bobby Jones golf course. The teams are captained by Henry Fulbright and Jim Bramlett. There is one more match to play.

The dinner will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Standard Club. Professional Billy Wilson has been in charge of the matches.

Tech High Wins Over Monroe, 6-0

Tech High virtually clinched the Big Six championship yesterday by defeating Monroe, 6 to 0, behind the great pitching of Morris, captain. He pitched a perfect game.

The Smithies have a few postponed games to play, but they have an excellent chance to repeat for the title they won last year.

Abbot didn't agree with the experts who said he couldn't get by with his kid pitchers. He didn't worry about his third base problem. While the baseball reporters had hysterics when Fritz Knoke failed to report for third base, Abbot said it was all for the best anyhow.

When the club lost a few games and the bleachers began to ride he walked over and said, "Now listen, you guys. You have managed this club for six years. You know what you're doing."

Abbott Is Not Excited Over Cracker Streak

"We're Still the Best Ball Club I Have Seen," Says Atlanta Manager.

By Ralph McGill.

"What," said Mr. Spencer Abbott, "are you excited about?"

"The Crackers," said this reporter into the mouthpiece of the phone. "The Crackers. They have won six straight."

"Not at all, what about it?" asked Mr. Abbott, who is the manager of the Crackers and who was calmly picking his teeth or maybe wondering what movie he would go to when the conversation was done.

"Well," said your inquiring reporter, "this town is used to winning streaks of one game and this business of six straight is too much. You'd better lose a game or so or you will have 15 or 20 thousand people at the park Sunday."

"I never worry about my ball clubs. They may lose a few but now and then they get busy and win 10 or 11 in a row."

"WELL, WHY NOT?"
"Do you mean," asked the questioning reporter, "that you may win all the rest of the games this week, two more from Little Rock and three from Memphis?"

"Well, why not?" asked Spencer Abbott. "I don't know. We may lose all five of them. But I won't worry. We're still the best-looking ball club I've seen yet. We've looked at Nashville, Chattanooga, New Orleans, Birmingham, Little Rock and Knoxville. Haven't seen Memphis yet. But our ball club looks better than the others."

"But," persisted the reporter, "aren't you worried about anything? Don't you feel this is too good to last, too good to be true?"

EITHER WIN OR LOSE.
"Not at all," said Spencer Abbott. "You either win a ball game or you lose it. We're hustling and we like to play ball."

And so I gave up. This fellow Abbott is too calm about things. He has been all year. He didn't worry when the club lost a few exhibition games. He didn't worry when the start was slow.

He knew it would be. The same fact should have been apparent to any observer. A number of the players were not in shape. The start was really better than it should have been.

Abbot didn't agree with the experts who said he couldn't get by with his kid pitchers. He didn't worry about his third base problem. While the baseball reporters had hysterics when Fritz Knoke failed to report for third base, Abbot said it was all for the best anyhow.

SCHMIDT WINS AS BOYS STAGE RALLY IN 5TH

Chatham Hits Home Run With Man on To Aid Victory.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 7.—A healthy fifth inning, manufacturing four runs and knocking Kola Sharpe off the mound, enabled the Atlanta Crackers to win their sixth consecutive game, defeating the Little Rock Travelers, 6 to 3, yesterday at Travelers' field. It was the first of a three-game series between the Pebes and the club from the Georgia metropolis.

The triumph also placed Atlanta on even terms with Chattanooga with 11 victories and 6 losses to tie for the leadership of the Southern association. Today was an off day for the Lookouts.

Bill Schmidt, Manager Spencer Abbott's class B right hander, went the route for the Crackers. Although Schmidt wavered in the second and sixth innings, excellent support by his bustling mates righted the situation in the perilous moments. Schmidt was nipped for 12 base hits, one less than his side collected off Sharpe and Clarence Struss. However, Bill managed to strike out seven with his fast ball.

SHARPE WEAKENS.
Until he weakened in the fourth, Sharpe held the Crackers scoreless, but after allowing a base on balls, which preceded two singles and doubles, he retired the side. Struss dealt out goose eggs during the sixth, seventh and eighth innings, but a home run by Chatham in the ninth with Schmidt on base, paved the way for the Crackers fifth and final tally.

Outstanding for the Travelers was the slugging of Nick Eiten, rookie rightfielder, who in four times at bat, crashed out a pair of rousing doubles and a single. Leo Nonnenkamp and Earl Brown also belted out three one-baggers in five trips to the plate.

Opening the fifth inning for Atlanta, Byrne James walked and advanced to third on Charley Sheerin's double to right. Schmidt grounded out to Akers, but Chatham beat out a hit to deep short, scoring James. McKee two-baggered to center, sending Sheerin home, with Chatham stopping at third, and Harry Taylor clearing the sacks with a single to right. Here Struss went in for Sharpe with Guy Wise grounding and Joe Palmisano flying to Eiten.

SCORE IN THIRD.
Little Rock made two-thirds of their three runs in the third when Sharpe opened with a single to left and advanced to second on Nonnenkamp's single to center. Tony Malinosky forced Sharpe at third, Grossman struck out, and Tony with his first double to center. The Travelers had an excellent

Tech Battling the Petrels in the Annual Clinch City Title

PETREL ERRORS GIVE JACKETS EASY SAILING

Waits Pitches Steady Ball To Hang Up Victory.

By Jack Troy.

The Jumping Jackets of Georgia Tech accepted the generosity of Oglethorpe's infielders, coupled with some right timely hitting to win their second straight game of the city championship series, 7 to 4, yesterday afternoon at Ponce de Leon park. And, unless Tech authorities are prevailed upon to change their minds, the city title belongs to the hard-pounding gentlemen from the Flats. Tech won the first game, 3 to 2.

Coch Coach Bobby Dodd said yesterday that permission has been refused the Jackets to play the rain-out game.

And even if the game were allowed, Oglethorpe would have to win it and today's game as much as a tie.

The Tech authorities contend that the players cannot afford to miss any more school. But since the passing of the daylight saving time measure, the rain-out game could be started as late as 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

And it may be played. Oglethorpe won the city title in a four-game series last year.

At any rate, if Tech wins again today there will be no room for argument. Tech will be the champion.

By Victor Eubank.
NEW YORK, May 7.—(P)—Federal bonds continued to edge into new high territory for the past year, but more today, but secondary corporation bonds turned sharply downward along with stocks.

Asked the average for 60 domestic corporate issues dropped half a point to 86.6, its largest day's decline since February 20 last, the trading volume was relatively light. Transactions totaled only $13,634,000, far below the treasury bonds, together with Liberty fourth 4 1/4's and federal fund 3 1/4's, attained new peaks for the move with gains ranging from 1/32nd to 3/32nds of a point. The turnover for the week amounted to about $2,300,000.

Advances in the governments were accompanied by rumors that plans were under way at Washington for a huge refunding operation which would not only take in the called series of Liberty 4th 4 1/4's, but would also include the new issue of 10-year bonds maturing in June and July.

RFC Loan Repayments
Seen as Business Gain

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(P)—Repayments of RFC loans were viewed today by Jesse Jones, chairman of the corporation, as an indication of improved business throughout the country.

Leaving a senate committee hearing at which legislation for RFC loans to industry were approved, Jones reported that loans being repaid at a rate of $3,000,000 a day without pressure from the lending agency.

Asked if he believed "the backbone of the depression is broken," he said, "Yes."

4 KILLED IN COLLISION
OF AUTOS AT DETROIT

DETROIT, May 7.—(P)—Four persons were killed in a collision of two automobiles at Woodward avenue and Thirteenth street on the northern city limits shortly before 2 a. m. today.

The dead were identified as Belo Lova, 27, a barber; his wife, Anna, 25; John Bertha, 23, an automobile worker, and his wife, Barbara, 18, all of Flint, Mich.

Bank Clearings

NEW YORK, May 7.—Bank clearings not only rose above the level of the week preceding, but the amount at many of the cities reporting continues to show a steady increase. The restricted total of a year ago, the figures last week for leading centers in the United States, as reported to the Federal Reserve bank, were $5,623,741,000, or 25.6 per cent higher than those for the same week of last year. At New York city clearings were $5,084,718,000, a gain of 20.1 per cent, while the total for the entire country was $5,623,741,000, or 25.6 per cent higher than for the same week of last year.

THE CONSTITUTION

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Information

CLOSING HOURS

Want Ads are accepted up to 9 p. m. for publication the next day. The closing hour for the Sunday edition is 5:30 p. m. Saturday.

CLASSIFIED RATES

Daily and Sunday rates per line for consecutive insertions:

One line.....20 cents

Three lines.....50 cents

Seven lines.....75 cents

Minimum, 2 lines, 12 cents

In estimating the space of an ad figure six average words to a line.

Ads ordered for three or more days and stopped before expiration will only be charged for the number of times the ad appeared and adjustments made at the rate agreed.

Errors in advertisements should be reported immediately. The Constitution will not be responsible for more than one insertion.

All want ads are restricted to their proper classification and the Constitution reserves the right to revise or reject any advertisement.

TARZAN AND THE CITY OF GOLD No. 38

N-38

Phobeg swelled his chest, flexed his muscles and hopped about, warming up his leg muscles. He knew he was the favorite of the betting and that he was attracting all the attention, and that pleased him exceedingly. Tarzan appeared totally unconscious of the noisy multitude.

But his eyes and ears were alert. Tarzan was ready. He did not wish to kill Phobeg, but he realized that his antagonist was a mighty man, and that his own life was at stake. His gaze changed to cross to the royal loge; the eyes of Nemone met his and held them.

"What strange eyes are here," he thought, "so beautiful, with fires burning beneath the surface, so mysterious!" The trumpet sounded, and the appanage's eyes swung back to Phobeg. A strange silence fell upon the amphitheater as the two men approached each other.

Phobeg moved forward, strutting and confident. Tarzan, with the easy graceful stride of a lion. "Say your prayers, fellow!" shouted the temple guard. "I am going to kill you; but first I shall play with you for the amusement of Nemone." He came closer and reached for Tarzan.

Brenau Crowns May Queen During Brilliant Celebration

Colorful Pageant Marks Annual Fete, Witnessed by 1,000, Including Many Rotary Delegates.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., May 7.—Brenau College's annual May fete, resplendent in beauty and brilliance, was held here this afternoon before a crowd of nearly 1,000.

Guests of the college included more than 200 Rotary club delegates here for the annual Georgia convention.

Miss Dorothy Woodall, senior, of Woodland, Ga., was crowned queen of the May and ruled the pageant with her Prince Charming, Miss Jane Brannon, senior, of Weston, W. Va.

Woodall belongs to Alpha Delta Pi sorority and Miss Brannon is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority, and ex-student government president.

Colorful Pageant.

The colorful pageant was written by Miss Beatrice Appleton, senior, and instructor in dancing of the physical education department. The fete opened with the assembling of the May court for the beginning of the festivities.
